

RAIN BREAKS RECORD OF YEARS

Downpour in Los Angeles Was Unprecedented—Traffic Is Demoralized

STEAM AND STREET CAR PUT OUT OF COMMISSION

Southern California Visited by Remarkable Downpour—Benefits Are Great

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 19.—The weather forecast today is for more rain today and tomorrow. The precipitation for the present storm here up to daylight was 4.36 inches; Pasadena, 6.35; Pomona, 5.87; Redlands, 1.04; Riverside, 1.06; San Bernardino, 1.80; Santa Barbara, 4.35.

Hundreds of men were engaged in repairing the street damage here today.

STORM RESULTS

RECORD IS BROKEN

Two inches of rain fell in less than two hours, between 12 and 2 o'clock; more than half an inch, .56 to be exact, fell in ten minutes; each hill in the city was turned into a waterfall, and each street into a river; vacant blocks became lakes in less time than it takes to tell it and before any one realized that the records for thirty-seven years were being broken, all railroads entering the city, the interurban line and the street cars were put out of business.

The storm has done immense damage but it has been millions in benefit to crops of all kinds.

Editors' Train Delayed

A special train with the members of the California Press Association arrived at Los Angeles at 9 o'clock, four hours late, on account of traffic conditions on the railroad, and it is feared it will be unable to get the train to San Bernardino before late tonight. It was ordered here, pending the issuing of other instructions. Governor Johnson will reach San Bernardino tonight if possible.

TRAIN AND CAR SERVICE GREATLY DEMORALIZED

No trains are being operated over the coast line of the Southern Pacific on account of washouts. Northern traffic is detoured over the valley lines. Perhaps there will be no trains over the coast line before tomorrow. Eastern trains will be detoured over the Santa Fe line via Fullerton. Salt Lake transcontinental trains are also using the Santa Fe Fullerton cut-off. The Long Beach and San Pedro line is out of commission. The Pacific Electric is badly crippled. The sun has been shining today but the indications are for more rain.

Conference Postponed

The California Supervisors Conference to discuss highway matters scheduled for Los Angeles tomorrow under the auspices of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and the Auto Club of Southern California, was postponed until March on account of railroad washouts.

Much Damage at Pomona

POMONA, Feb. 19.—Much damage has been done throughout the valley as the result of yesterday's storm. The streets here are badly damaged. No railroads are operating except the Pacific Electric between Pomona and Ontario. San Dimas is without gas on account of the breaking of the main.

Venice is Flooded

VENICE, Feb. 19.—There is a foot of water in the high school building, and the canal district is flooded with water, which is rising three inches hourly. All schools have been dismissed.

Lunch, But No Lunchers

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 19.—Committees waited vainly for the arrival of the California Press Association members, delayed at Los Angeles by storms, at the Women's Club house. The women of the city had luncheon waiting for the visiting editors and their wives, but they did not arrive to partake of it. The Progressives' committee is also awaiting the governor's arrival, but the governor is also late. The features of the National Orange Show are being held up, awaiting the arrival of the guests.

MRS. ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON PASSES AWAY OF APOPLEXY

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 19.—Mrs. Robert Louis Stevenson, widow of the famous author, died last night at her home in Montecito, near here. She was stricken early yesterday with apoplexy. She died without regaining consciousness. Her son, Lloyd Osbourne, a novelist and writer of short stories, is en route here from New York.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Plaster shippers were heard by Interstate Commerce Commission today on the question of the increase of five per cent in freight rates for the eastern railroads.

CINCINNATI SEEKS A REGIONAL BANK

CINCINNATI, Feb. 19.—Cincinnati bankers merged with civic organizations today to tell the organization committee under the new currency law why Cincinnati should be favored over Cleveland for the regional reserve bank in Ohio's district. The committee, composed of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and Secretary of Agriculture Houston, will hold hearings here tomorrow and will hear Cleveland's side of the argument on February 21, in that city. The fight between the two Ohio cities waxed warm. The committee returns to Washington February 22.

ALASKA REJOICES OVER PASSAGE OF RAILROAD BILL BY CONGRESS

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Feb. 19.—There will be a general celebration held on next Monday as a result of the passage last night of the Alaska railroad bill by the U. S. senate. Everything will be free. The Tanana Valley railroad will carry passengers free to Fairbanks. Cannons boomed all night. At Cordova, the citizens last night celebrated the passage of the railroad bill by congress. All night whistles blew, bells rang and guns were fired off. In Valdez the biggest celebration in the history of this town came off, lasting all night.

SEWARD SUSPENDED ALL BUSINESS—WILL BE TERMINAL

At Seward business was virtually suspended today while the entire town celebrated the passage of the Alaska railroad bill by congress. Seward expects to be selected as the coast terminal of the road.

SENATOR GORE IS EXHONERATED BY JURY

Verdict Returned Within Ten Minutes After Cases Had Been Submitted

CROWD IN COURTROOM CHEERED GORE LUSTILY

Flood of Telegrams Reached Gore Congratulating Him—Mrs. Bond Nears Collapse

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Feb. 19.—Senator T. P. Gore received a flood of telegrams today congratulating him on his victory in the $50,000 suit brought by Mrs. Minnie Bond, who accused him of attacking her. Mrs. Bond is on the verge of a nervous collapse. Gore was particularly pleased that the jury took but five minutes to deliberate. He said today he was undecided whether or not to prosecute those bringing the charges.

The verdict exonerating Gore was brought in late yesterday afternoon within ten minutes after the case was given to the jury. Only one ballot was taken.

"We find," the jury stated in the verdict, "the evidence submitted by the plaintiff entirely insufficient upon which to base a suit; that said evidence wholly exonerates the defendant and had the defendant, at the conclusion of the plaintiff's evidence, announced that he desired to introduce no evidence and rested his case, our verdict would have been the same in that event as now returned by us, in favor of the defendant."

Despite the efforts of bailiffs to maintain order when the verdict was reached, the crowd that filled the courtroom turned into a cheering throng.

CHILD BORN OUT OF WEDLOCK SUES

State Immigration Commission Starts Suit Under New California Law

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—The first suit under the new law making a father responsible for the support of children born out of wedlock began today in the superior court at the instance of the state immigration commission.

The plaintiff is Louis Gambetta, Jr., aged nine months. He sued through Mrs. Clara Civio, a worker for the Associated Charities, acting as his guardian. The defendant is Louis Gambetta. He is asked to pay $25 monthly towards the child's support. Agatha Leventine, an immigrant girl, is said to be the mother. She is destitute. The case was brought to the attention of the immigration authorities and the suit followed.

SCENE IN MEXICAN REFUGEE CAMP AT FORT BLISS

This is the kind of home left to most of those Mexicans who fled from Ojinaga when the blood-thirsty General Villa captured the town from the federals. Hundreds of the people of the place threw themselves on the mercy of the United States troops on the border. American soldiers had to supply them with tents and equipment for camps and then give them rations.

This is just a typical Mexican home of one of the families driven forth. A Mexican mother is washing her child in view of the passersby in the great corral which the American troops have erected to hold the refugees. Some hundreds of them are held prisoners within an enclosure of a half mile surrounded by strong barbed wire.

SON OF GARDEN GROVE WOMAN IS IN MEXICAN PRISON, TO BE SHOT

Mrs. Harry Compton of Oakland Wires Relatives that Husband's Letter Tells of Threatened Fate

OAKLAND, Feb. 19.—Mrs. Mattie Compton has wired the state department at Washington requesting immediate action in the case of her husband, Harry Compton, a carpenter, who, according to a letter from him yesterday, is in a Mexican prison and about to be shot. The letter said that he is in Chihuahua and that he and five Mexicans are to be shot at Juarez February 15. He said he had a gun and would resist. He said he was writing when he saw an opportunity to smuggle the letter from prison. The letter is postmarked El Paso, Feb. 16. Mrs. Compton fears her husband is already shot and she wants an immediate investigation.

"Oakland, Cal. Feb. 18, 1914.

"To Charles Meeks, Garden Grove. "Letter from Harry, in Mexican prison to be shot. Try to help. Letter left El Paso 16th. Have wired to Washington and Matt Hollan. Afraid to tell his mother. Wire me."

"MATTIE COMPTON."

The above message was received by wire this morning by Charles A. Meeks of Garden Grove. In addition to the information contained in the telegram, the relatives of Harry Compton, referred to in the message as Harry, have but little information touching upon the case. They do not know in what prison he is confined. Compton is a son of Mrs. G. W. Rolfe of Garden Grove, a sister of Mrs. Charles Meeks and a cousin of L. A. Schlusser, proprietor of the White House Dry Goods Store, Santa Ana.

Compton is a carpenter and contractor. His wife and two children live in Oakland. Last August he passed through here, on his way to Arizona, where he expected to get work at his trade. At that time he met Meeks and Schlusser. Meeks rode on the train with him as far as San Bernardino.

At that time Compton stated that it was his intention to stay in Arizona until things settled in Mexico, when he thought there would be a good opening for a builder in Mexico, where he had acquaintances. His relatives in this country did not know that he had gone into Mexico until the wire was received this morning.

Mrs. Meeks is trying to keep the matter from her mother, Mrs. Rolfe, who lives at Garden Grove, for fear that the shock would have a serious result upon Mrs. Rolfe. Compton is 36 years old.

Meeks came here today and sent a telegram to Oakland asking that the letter received from Compton be forwarded to him. Compton's relatives here will use every possible effort to free him, but as yet they have little information to work upon.

O'SHAUGHNESSY THREATENS EDITOR

Says He Will Shoot Miron of El Imparcial—Attacks on Wilson Are Cause

[By United Press Staff Correspondent]

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 19.—American Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy threatened today to shoot Editor Diaz Miron of the newspaper El Imparcial if he carried a loaded revolver. Through the newspapers Miron has conducted a series of attacks on America and personally on President Wilson and O'Shaughnessy. The latter complained to President Huerta, who deprecated the newspaper attacks, but the articles continued, Miron, borrowing an American slang, saying he would "get" O'Shaughnessy. To the inquiries of the United Press representative O'Shaughnessy replied unmistakably: "I will arm myself and shoot him if he speaks to me here or elsewhere."

Today was the first anniversary of Huerta's rule. There were no ceremonies. The dictator decorated the twenty-ninth regiment, his personal body guard, for loyalty. He has promised O'Shaughnessy to establish a neutral zone for foreigners at Torreón in the event of fighting at the capital.

VILLA JAILS AMERICANS. WHO ARE LATER RELEASED

JUAREZ, Mexico, Feb. 19.—Asserting that his life had been placed in jeopardy on account of a plot to kill him by means of lyddite shells, General Villa caused the incarceration of six American citizens Tuesday night and yesterday, apparently in hopes of obtaining evidences of espionage. Two of the prisoners were reputable newspaper men and on one was found a bundle of clippings taken from the Los Angeles Times.

THANKS TO THE ACTIVITY OF THE UNITED STATES CONSULAR SERVICE, ALL THE AMERICANS, AS FAR AS KNOWN, WERE RELEASED AT 5 O'CLOCK YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

PROGRAM FOR JOHNSON MEETINGS HERE WILL BE CARRIED OUT AS PLANNED

So far as could be learned today, there will be no changes in the program for the Johnson-Eshleman meetings in this county tomorrow. The governor and his party reached San Bernardino by train. It is expected that he will be in Santa Ana by noon tomorrow.

Directly after the noon hour he will speak to the students of the Santa Ana High School.

At 3 o'clock the governor and Eshleman will speak at Campbell's Opera House at Orange.

At 8 o'clock they will speak at the Grand Opera House in Santa Ana.

WOULD CLOSE DOORS TO HINDUS

Caminetti Urges Exclusion Before the Immigration Committee

HE REFRAINED FROM USE OF THE WORD "JAPANESE"

Would Apply Chinese Exclusion Law to Hindus—Says It Is Emergency Matter

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Acting in behalf of the department of labor, Commissioner General of Immigration Caminetti asked members of the house immigration committee today to confine Asiatic exclusion legislation to Hindus. He carefully avoided using the word "Japanese."

He said, "The department of labor thus far has considered Asiatic exclusion solely as it relates to Hindus and from an economic, not a racial, standpoint. Their exclusion is supposed to be an emergency matter. My department suggests that this legislation be confined to Hindus only."

Caminetti suggested that the provisions of the Chinese exclusion law which includes merchants as well as laborers be extended to Hindus.

"TEN COMMANDMENTS" FOR TEACHERS ANNOUNCED

BOULDER, Colo., Feb. 19.—"Ten commandments" for teachers have been laid down by Prof. Frank E. Thompson, of the chair of education of the University of Colorado, to students who are preparing to take up teaching as a profession. In an address explaining his commandments, he classified some teachers as "a mob of mobile maidens meditating matrimony." He further declared that no teacher should apply for any position unless it has been declared vacant. Here are his "commandments":

1. Poor teachers should not receive positions as long as there are better teachers.
2. The more expert teachers should be given the more difficult positions.
3. The individual genius of the teacher should fit the particular requirements for the position.
4. Teachers should be put where they do the most good.
5. Change of position is subject to three requirements: (A) the good of the school the teacher is leaving; (B) the good of the school to which he is going; (C) the good of the teacher himself.
6. Personal and political pull must be eliminated.
7. Teachers of equivalent ability should be kept in close competition.
8. The method should be such as brings them upward impetus in salaries.
9. A teacher should never have her own testimonials.
10. Superintendents should not get rid of "undesirables" by writing them good testimonials.

U. S. TO HOLD CASTILLO PENDING INVESTIGATION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Maximo Castillo, the Mexican bandit, responsible for the Cumbre tunnel disaster, where fifty persons were killed, will be held temporarily at Fort Bliss prison until the government can decide what disposition to make of him, according to information issued on government authority this afternoon. Federal agents are investigating to learn whether Castillo is actually responsible for the tunnel disaster.

INDIANA K. OF P. CELEBRATE

RICHMOND, Ind., Feb. 19.—A monster public meeting at the Coliseum at which Governor Ralston will be the chief speaker will be the feature number on the program of the Richmond order of the Knights of Pythias who are today celebrating the golden anniversary of the establishment of the organization. Delegations from many towns and cities in Eastern Indiana arrived today to attend the ceremonies. Governor Ralston's subject will be "Brotherhood."

BUNDY IS HOPEFUL

SAN QUENTIN, Feb. 19.—Louis Bundy, the murderer of Harold Ziebach at Los Angeles, was settled in murderers' row today. He told the guards he expects his lawyers to get him a new trial. He ate a hearty breakfast and seemed in excellent spirits.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

WOULD BRING
FILM FACTORY
TO THIS CITY

Universal People Said to Be Looking for New Location for Their Plant

At the regular mid-monthly meeting of the directors of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce last evening appeared before the chamber with the suggestion that the Universal Film Manufacturing Company be encouraged to locate their studio in this city. Mr. Knapp stated that although he was not interested in any way in the film company, he was very much interested in the development of Santa Ana. He said that the two years' lease of the Universal company's property, outside of Los Angeles, was about to expire and that the owners were asking an exorbitant price for a renewal. As a result the photo-play people are looking for a new location. Mr. Knapp also said that the bringing here of this studio would be of immense value to Santa Ana, both from an advertising standpoint as well as from purely commercial reasons as the Universal people have one of the largest film producing plants in the country and spend in the neighborhood of $20,000 per month on salaries and other items. A committee, consisting of Fred Rafferty, H. T. Rutherford and E. A. White, was appointed to take up the matter with the film company. Mr. Metzgar was instructed to wire them. He telegraphed this morning and developments are expected shortly.

O. M. Robbins suggested that local merchants offer prizes for the best specimens of products grown here. Mr. Robbins offered a prize of $5. Mr. Zimmerman and Mr. Rutherford also offered prizes. A committee was appointed to arrange this matter—H. T. Rutherford, chairman; J. D. Thomas, D. Eymann Huff, W. James, F. E. Farnsworth.

AS oranges were never better than they are this season and as they may be had at a reasonably cheap price, it was decided by the chamber to supply all the trolley trip visitors with an orange each. This can will be given in try-out for a month. It is expected that the boosting derived from this method of advertising will more than offset its cost.

Use Letter Heads
Another matter which came up last evening was that of starting a campaign to induce local merchants to use Chamber of Commerce letterheads and envelopes, especially when writing to out-of-town people. Mr. Metzgar is at work getting figures in regard to cost of this printing in quantities.

Mr. Rutherford reported, as a committee of one, that the plans to advertise the county and city by means of a large sign atop the Commercial Company's building on Fourth street, between the two railroad tracks, were well under way and that work was to commence on the sign in about a week.

A letter from the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce of San Diego was read. It was decided to adopt the resolutions contained therein. Following are the resolutions:

Whereas, the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce of San Diego county, California, believe that expressions, either by the press or by individuals, derogatory to any section of California are, at all times, inadvisable on the part of the people of this community, or of any other community in California; therefore,

Be it resolved by the board of directors of said Chamber of Commerce of San Diego county that, for the good of our "Golden State" and for the upbuilding of each and every part of it, we earnestly request our citizens and

IF BACK HURTS USE
SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat if Kidneys Feel
Like Lead or Bladder
Bothers

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Advertisement.

ALASKA'S MIGHTY RIVER.

The Yukon Is Navigable For a Stretch of Over 2,100 Miles.

Dismiss from your mind any notion that the Yukon river is a puny stream fed by eternal glaciers and trickling away to the sea. It is a river so mighty that it can spread out over a width of sixty miles on the Yukon delta and still have depth enough in the main channel to float heavily laden freight steamers. From its mouth (near St. Michael) at the Bering sea it is navigable all the way to White Horse, in the Yukon territory of Canada, an unbroken stretch of over 2,100 miles—two-thirds of the distance from New York to San Francisco. Add to this the navigable water of its tributaries—370 miles on the Inuvik river, 320 on the Ilitortuk, 620 on the Koyukuk and 392 miles on the Tanana—and you will begin to have a fair idea of what a big river we have in our great empire beneath the Northern Lights.

The valley drained by this wonderful river system of the north is the hope of Alaska. The wealth of the past and of today has come from mines and fisheries, and the lifetime of all mining regions is briefer even than human life. It has been only a few years, you remember, since the Klondike was the most active mining camp in the world. Today it is a valley long since deserted by the individual miner and turned over to two big dredging companies, which work the low grade tailings. And these also must shortly pass.—Edgar Allen Forbes in Leslie's.

SKIN OF A SABLE.

It Takes Lots of Treading to Make It Soft and Fluffy.

"Otter hunts are fashionable in England," said the manicurist, "and I call that a sensible kind of hunt. Look at the otter skins the girls can collect—and otter coats so fashionable now too!"

"I wouldn't mind collecting an otter coat myself. But how would you like to belong to a sable hunt, girls, and collect a sable coat?"

"A customer of mine, though, a fur dealer, told me I wouldn't know a sable if I saw one. I thought, of course, they'd be soft, fluffy little fellows, but he says they have a hide as flat as a rat's. He says that when the skins are taken from the animals they are so hard that they are placed in a tub and a barefooted man steps in and begins to tread on them to soften them. The tub is tilted so that at each step the man takes the skins slide down the slope and are kept moving. The man treads for hours and hours before any pile appears. When it begins to rise the skins are oiled and the treading begins again. This is continued until the skins are as supple as camels and the pile has become so high that the fur has that soft depth and beautiful rich gloss which we see in Fifth avenue."

"I always thought a sable was a pretty creature, with fluffy fur like a kitten, didn't you?"—New York Tribune.

A Way to Distinguish Twins.

Twins brothers who have been called up for service in a Paris regiment are so alike that it is impossible to distinguish between them. The other day one was confined to barracks, and by changing his cap, with its regimental number, for that of his brother he was able to pass the guard whenever he wished to go out. The colonel has now issued the following order to obviate such tricks: "The soldier bonhomme (even number) will wear his hair as long as the regulations, construed with the utmost leniency, will allow and will shave his beard and mustache. The soldier bonhomme (odd number) will allow his beard and mustache to grow full and will have his hair regularly cut as closely as possible by the regimental barber."—London Mail.

THOMAS A EDISON ON HIS 67TH BIRTHDAY

Thomas A. Edison, the wizard of electricity, is leading a safe and sane and happy life in his home in Llewellyn Park, West Orange, N. J., on his sixty-seventh birthday. Moreover, he is as industrious as he was twenty years ago, and his scent for the new and useful is as keen as it ever was. As Mr. Edison grows older he mellows, and he has developed a philosophy of life, drawn not only from his own experiences, but from his deep thought for many years. In his sixty-seventh year he is a kindly old man, with the alert mind of a boy.

BREATHE FREELY! OPEN UP NOSTRILS
AND STUFFED HEAD--END CATARRH

Instant Relief When Nose and Head Are Clogged from a Cold. Stops Nasty Catarrhal Discharges. Dull Headache Vanishes.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm." Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it. Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning the catarrh, cold, head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucus dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.—Advertisement.

DRAMA ABROAD AND AT HOME

By Beau Rialto

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—In this wreck-stricken season of dramatic paradoxes, when good shows have failed and mediocre productions have scored hits, one should be surprised at nothing. But it does give one a start to see Chauncey Olcott, that staunch booster for the Auld Sod, in an American play. His latest production at the Grand Opera House is about the American Revolution. But its name is "Shameless Dan," Rida Johnson wrote it, and its scenes are laid in Ireland, so Olcott's departure is not radical after all.

The play is about a representative of the Continental Congress who goes to Ireland to solicit help for the Colonials and all the action deals with George Washington's struggle against the British. The piece is filled with genuine humor and a lot of pretty songs. Also there is a regulation love story that ends as all love stories should. Olcott as Dare O'Donnell is the hero, and the heroine is Peggy O'Dea, played by Miss Constance Molleaux, a brand new leading woman who is having her first Broadway chance. And she gets away with it. Olcott found her down south somewhere last summer.

The best that can be said for "When Claudia Smiles" at the Forty-ninth Street is that Blanche Ring has brought back to Broadway. Miss Ring was a long time gone and Broadway missed her. Now that she is back again, no body is quibbling much because "When Claudia Smiles" is innocent of plot and is filled with reminiscences of a lot of musical things of the long ago. It is a reminder that the road show audiences are not such sticklers for the new and the logical as are the New York audiences.

All of the songs of the piece make the audience think vaguely of something they heard several seasons ago. Also, when Claudia starts a song all alone in the privacy of her boudoir, a double chorus files out of her bed-chamber and takes up the refrain. Critics always question things like that, but evidently audiences do not. Anyway the action of "When Claudia Smiles" is laughable, the songs are whistleable and then there's Miss Ring.

Along with Chauncey Olcott and "When Claudia Smiles" came another new musical show, "The Laughing Husband," at the Knickerbocker.

American plays and players in London are scoring marked success this season. Miss Marie Doro, playing in "Diplomacy" was commanded to give a performance before King George, Queen Mary and the Royal family at Windsor Castle. The young American star was cordially received by their majesties and warmly complimented on her work. It amused the little leading woman not a little that she was requested to remodel all of her ultra-Broadway costumes used in "Diplomacy" to conform to the rather rigid fashion ideas of the queen. Silk skirts were sewed up, petticoats improvised and low corsages fitted with "dickies."

About the same time of Miss Doro's marked triumph, George M. Cohan's "Broadway Jones" had its London debut and made an instant hit.

Playing both ends against the middle with the trusting public as the goal is becoming a fine art in the New York theater business. Men connected with the Shubert organization recently bought a controlling interest in a ticket speculating company. Immediately a blood-curdling squawk went up from the Klaw & Erlanger offices. Mr. I. Bystander surmised that maybe the syndicate was yelling more in chagrin than in righteous indignation.

The best seats in the theaters were on sale at the box offices at the regulation price, $2, the night of the performance. That in itself was an innovation. Heretofore the speculators bought up all the choice seats for days, even weeks, in advance for the popular shows and sold them for one dollar more, sometimes two and three dollars in advance of the list price at the box offices. Klaw & Erlanger announced that, because of the action of the Shuberts in going into ticket speculation, the syndicate houses no longer would sell tickets to speculators. This was the explanation of the good seats to be had from the box offices. Theater-goers took the announcement with a grain of salt but were content to take the seats without being held up for a 50 per cent bonus.

The charges of the syndicate and the counter-charges of the Shuberts made such a racket in the theater world that District Attorney Charles S. Whitman heard of it, and made a personal investigation of the ticket speculating business on Broadway. The result was an announcement by him that there might be an official investigation.

FULLERTON

PLACENTIA WOMAN IS HIS ACCUSER

FULLERTON, Feb. 19.—William Ramsey is in the county jail on a charge of attacking Mrs. Ray McCombs of Placentia. He pleaded not guilty before a Placentia justice of the peace and his preliminary examination will be held next Monday. Mrs. McCombs was taken to a hospital in Los Angeles for treatment. It is said Ramsey had visited a number of times at the McCombs apartment when McCombs was at home, but when the alleged attempt at assault was made McCombs was not at home. It is said that within a few minutes after Ramsey called, near-by women heard Mrs. McCombs screaming and ran to her apartments. Ramsey says he will fight the case. He claims to have drunk liquor at the McCombs home two or three times. Deputy Sheriff Schumacher arrested Ramsey as he was hiring a livery rig, and as Ramsey failed to give $4000 bonds he was taken to the county jail.

SALES OF LARD BY BUCKET IS UNDER FIRE

Five-Pound Bucket Rarely Contains Five Pounds of Commodity

McPHEE CONVINCED THAT IS THE CASE

Wholesalers Trying But Cannot Shift Responsibility to Retailers

George McPhee, county sealer of weights and measures, intends to obliterate the time honored practice of selling lard by the three-pound bucket, the five-pound bucket or the ten-pound bucket. His attention has been directed to the selling of lard by reason of the fact that his investigations as sealer of weights and measures has proven to him that as a rule a three-pound bucket of lard, as commonly designated, contains only about two and a quarter pounds of lard, and even with the bucket weighs a good deal under three pounds.

"A radical change will have to be made in handling lard and lard compounds and lard substitutes," said McPhee. "The state law requires that commodities of that kind be sold by weight, 20,000 pounds to the ton and sixteen ounces to the pound."

When McPhee began work as inspector he found that nearly all the butter handled locally ran half an ounce or an ounce short, and oftentimes more than an ounce short. McPhee went to work on that proposition, and as a result of his work a pound of butter sold by Santa Ana dealers weighs sixteen ounces. The local dealers were not at fault for the reason that they bought the butter as full weight and sold it by the cake.

Sometimes it has been found that it is no far cry from lard to butter, and McPhee soon turned his attention to lard. The chief trouble in the lard sales is that local dealers in buying from Los Angeles wholesalers buy it in buckets, and by common practice the wholesalers rarely ever have as much lard in a bucket as it ought to have. At least, that is the conclusion reached by McPhee. His conclusion is backed up by weighing of many buckets and by statements of retailers who buy from wholesalers.

The wholesalers seem to have attempted to shift the burden of responsibility to the retailers. On the back of the shipping bills of one wholesale house appears the following: "Lard and lard substitutes put up in tins are sold by the case and not by weight. Fresh and smoked meats, poultry and butter, put up in packages or boxes or crates, including wrapping, are weighed when packed and constitute the conditions of this sale—also back-sets and skewers are included in weight and constitute the condition of this sale."

"No allowance is made on products sold on weight at time of packing for shrinkage due to natural causes." "That will not do," said McPhee this morning, after a conference held with District Attorney West. "The district attorney tells me that the wholesaler cannot get away from responsibility by any such methods. The retailer, however, is just as responsible as though he got full weight from the wholesaler. If the retailer buys five-pound buckets of lard, he sells it as a bucket containing five pounds of lard, and the consumer is the loser, not the retailer. That is the reason the retailer cannot dodge the responsibility."

McPhee stated that one meat dealer told him that he had quit buying a certain lard compound from a Los Angeles wholesaler in fifty-pound cans, for the reason that he had found that the cans never contained over forty-seven pounds of lard and sometimes not over forty-three pounds. "The object of the state law is to aid consumers in getting as much as they pay for," said McPhee. "That is of considerable consequence, when you come to figure it out. Suppose that each family in Santa Ana is loser only one cent a day by reason of getting short weight in butter, lard, coal and other commodities. That is not very much, but figure it out. There are 3,000 families in Santa Ana, say. At one cent a day, they would lose $30 a day altogether, and $10,950 a year."

HEAD STUFFED? GOT A COLD? TRY PAPE'S

"Pape's Cold Compound" Ends Colds and Grippe in a Few Hours

Take "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until you have taken three doses, then all gripe misery goes and your cold will be broken. It promptly opens your clogged-up nostrils and the air passages of the head; stops nasty discharge or nose running; relieves the headache, dizziness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness. Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling. Ease your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Accept no substitute. —Advertisement.

Better values in Silk Petticoats at $1.95

—These came just as we were ready to close this advertisement—but they were values so much out of the ordinary that we could hardly deny them space here even though it meant the rearrangement of a great many items. —They're of soft messaline—made with deep knife-plaited flounces and come in plain, emeralds, wistaria, purple, navy, black, taupe and Copenhagen. —Some changeable effects, too. —They'll cause a big stir at $1.95.

Each Price Away Under Value

—When we first planned our big Anniversary Sale we decided to make waists—not waists at regular prices—but waists at ridiculously low prices—a strong attraction of the event.

—For Thursday we will feature four big special purchase lots—and the prices—50c, 85c, $1.25 and $1.50—are so much less than these waists are actually worth that you cannot fail but be impressed by the values. —The crispest, newest of spring waists, low neck—the new front frills, the new long shoulder effect, and there are volles, batiste, allover laces, etc., and there are so many different styles that individual description is entirely out of the question.

Waists at 59c

—Some of the garments in this assortment are slightly soiled, but one trip to the laundry will remedy that—dozens of different styles in this lot and ordinarily you would see them marked in regular stock at $1.00.

Waists at 85c

—You will hardly believe it possible when you come to see them that a mistake has not been made in pricing them, for they are actually worth $1.19 to $1.50.

Waists at $1.25

—Would be selling ordinarily at $1.50 to $1.95—the cleverest of new styles are in this assortment—select your spring and summer waists early during this sale event.

Waists at $2.00

—Are worth $2.50 to $3.95 and you may select from a wonderful assortment of the loveliest of volles, crepes, nets and laces—dozens and dozens of different ones—you hardly know which to select and just think how much you save when you buy these at $2.00. Special sale price for the Anniversary, $2.00.

THE CHILD'S HEALTH IN HOME AND SCHOOL

Two problems concerning the health and physical and mental development of a child confront thoughtful parents today, consideration of the child outside of school and attention to its environment within the school.

Whether in the country or in city, the home influence on its health is most important. A constant and controllable factor is its food. Herein lies the home responsibility of the mother. She must learn that the food of the growing child is next only in importance to its feeding as an infant; and that the greatest good comes to it from plain, nutritious, well-cooked and easily digested food; that it needs certain foods for body structure and other foods to supply heat and energy. A child should frolic and romp and play because there is a natural relation between such muscular activity and the proper performance of such food material in carrying on their functions. The mother must also realize that rest is as important for the child as play, and that sufficient quiet, restful sleep does its equal part in storing energy and bringing about perfect development. Children need sunshine and fresh air, and at night should sleep in a well-ventilated room with the windows well down from the top. They should be bathed regularly and properly clothed.

But no matter how well fed and clothed, how clean and well nourished previous to its admission to school, the parents' interest must follow the child to the schoolroom and see that such environment does not undermine its health. Herein lies the responsibility of the father, as a citizen and taxpayer. It is his money that maintains the school and it is his duty to see that his child is not forced into an overcrowded, poorly ventilated, overheated classroom, compelled to breathe for five hours a day the exhalations from forty or fifty pairs of lungs, and its condition so weakened as to render it vulnerable to the attacks of infectious disease. Any one, on reflection, will be impressed with the futility of expecting a maximum progression, physical and mental, where children are housed in overcrowded classrooms with little or no moisture in the air, compelled to breathe dry, vitiated air and to attempt mental tasks with suffocated brain-cells deprived of nature's generous supply of oxygen. This is the condition in a large number of school-rooms throughout the land today.

YES, IT IS UNTHINKABLE

(South Pasadena Courier)
That was a great meeting at Santa Barbara on Saturday. The leaders there are the very men who in the past have forced the majority of self-respecting Republicans to rally to the support of Governor Johnson, a man who came forward for a purpose and has accomplished that purpose. It is not possible that the people of this state will stand for a return of the system that had everybody in office subservient to the corrupt corporations. Governor Johnson has taught the people what political freedom really is, and thousands of those who are registering as Republicans will hesitate a long time before falling in to line back of Eddie Wolfe, Leroy Wright and their kind, which means only political bondage for the rest of the people when those fellows get in to power at Sacramento.

RESULTS OF INADEQUATE WATER LAWS

Mr. Elwood Mead in Bulletin 100 of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, issued in 1901, states, on page 24 of his report:

"Many of those who desire to see the irrigated area extended, say they see no way to accomplish it. At Chico, it was stated that all the water of that section was now owned; that the Bidwell estate owned Chico Creek; that the Stanford estate owned Butte Creek; that some other estate, whose name has been forgotten, owned Rock Creek; and that any extended use of the Sacramento River would give rise to extended litigation with the navigation interests. To the inquiry as to how these estates acquired the ownership of the streams named, reply was made that no one understood exactly how a title was established. The owners of these estates were among the first settlers and acquired the rights to the waters when not much attention was paid to such matters. All those talked with, accepted this ownership as established, and were deterred by from attempting to utilize those streams, where otherwise they would have done so."

Meanwhile the census of 1900 showed that the population of Chico and Willows had decreased a great deal in ten years.

If California had such a law as was passed by the legislature of 1913, establishing the new State Water Commission Act, the state could have remedied conditions in that section by making an investigation of the stream system and adjudicating the rights thereon, and if surplus water was found over and above what was put to actual and beneficial use, could have declared the same inappropriate and subject to appropriation under the new and adequate provisions of said act of 1913. And this could have been done with little or no expense to the residents of the neighborhood, and would have settled for all time the question of title to the use of the waters of the streams so investigated.

Safe For Babies, Effective For Grown-Ups

That's Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It has the confidence of your druggist, who knows it will give you satisfaction. W. W. Newsom, State Health Officer, says: "I have used Foley's Honey and Tar Compound in my family and have sold it in my store and it never fails to cure." And Bob Ferguson, 319 Pine St., Green Bay, Wis., says: "I had a bad cough that kept me awake nights and two small bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar cured me." Wingood's Drug Store.

WANTS BOLIVIAN CONSUL C. SANJINES RECALLED

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—That he will demand the recall of Bolivian Consul Carlos S. Sanjines who escaped prosecution on the charge of committing an offense against two young girls on the ground that the police courts have no jurisdiction over the representative of a foreign government was the declaration today of Federal District Attorney Preston. He announced his determination to forward a transcript of the children's testimony to Attorney General McReynolds, with the request that Secretary of State Bryan be asked to secure Sanjines' removal. As an alternative he proposed to prosecute Sanjines in the federal courts.

Sanjines bitterly denounced what he declares to be a conspiracy to ruin him. He admitted he frequently visited the theatre where it is alleged he approached the girls but he denied vehemently that he was ever guilty of wrong doing. He said he would fight the case to the end.

YOU SAVE MONEY

When you buy Foley's Honey and Tar Compound because just a few doses stops the cough and heals the cold, one bottle lasts a long time, and the last dose is as good as the first. Mrs. S. S. S., 20 Van Buren St., Kingsport, N. Y., says: "Father had laryngitis and his cough was something terrible and he could not sleep. Foley's Honey and Tar not only stopped his coughing, but he brought up his voice back to me after a severe case of bronchitis and laryngitis." Wingood's Drug Store.

IMPROVEMENTS AT ALEXANDRIA PARLORS

This afternoon work was begun on the remodeling of the Alexandria Billiard parlors. Men are at work recovering and renovating all the billiard tables. The bowling alleys are to be taken up and shipped to an out-of-town purchaser. The partition which now divides the billiard room from the alleys will be extended out to the sidewalk on Main street. The space now occupied by the alleys will be rented. It is the intention of the Alexandria management to prepare the new room in a manner to suit the wishes of prospective tenants.

IN SANTA ANA

The Evidence is Supplied by Local Testimony

If the reader wants stronger proof than the following statement and experience of a resident of Santa Ana, what can it be?

F. L. Sexton, retired farmer, 1123 W. Second St., Santa Ana, Cal., says: "Off and on I was troubled by a dull pain in the small of my back. I thought the complaint was due to disordered kidneys. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills recommended I tried them. I soon got relief. Another of my family has also had fine results from Doan's Kidney Pills. They relieved her of backache just as quickly as they did me. I haven't had any need of Doan's Kidney Pills since I first used them. I am eighty-four years old and have never had any serious illness. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to a great many old soldiers whom I have heard complain of backache and kidney trouble. Many have used them on my recommendation. I take pleasure in confirming the public endorsement I gave Doan's Kidney Pills several years ago."

LESS THAN AN INCH OF RAIN FELL HERE

Orange county got less than an inch of the heavy rain that flooded streets in Los Angeles, Pasadena and other places. According to S. Hill & Son's gauge, the fall for the storm here was .70 in., of which .59 in. fell during the twenty-four hours ending at 7 o'clock this morning. The season's rainfall is now 10.18 in. This county suffered almost no damage from the storm, further than that coming from the inconveniences of delayed mails and shipments.

The S. P. is washed out at Downey, the Santa Fe near Rivera and the P. E. at Clearwater. The P. E. is sending cars to Los Angeles by way of Huntington Beach, from Santa Ana. Mail service is almost out of commission.

SMITH OF BELLEVUE CHEER MAKER FOR SICK

BELLEVUE, Ohio, Feb. 19.—When Thomas A. Edison invented the phonograph he had no idea what a part it would play in cheering up sick folks in Bellevue. O. If Edison were to see Frank A. Smith of Bellevue, pushing a wheelbarrow containing a phonograph down the street he'd ask perhaps what Smith was doing. Here is the answer: Smith cheers up sick folks with his phonograph. He has been visiting sick folks in Bellevue for years and he always wheels his talking machine. Wherever he tears of a "shut-in" he starts out, "Flowers aren't just the thing for sick folks," declared Smith. "A phonograph record does them much more good." Sickens in any family is a sure sign that Smith will read it in the paper and be on his way with his phonograph.

RADIUM LAND WITHDRAWAL

DENVER, Feb. 19.—Secretary Lane's recent advocacy of the withdrawal from public entry of all radium bearing mines in this country, is expected to be one of the principal topics of discussion during the Colorado mining convention which began here today. Thos. R. Honohan, state mining commissioner, called the convention "to form a state-wide organization to promote the metalliferous mining interests of Colorado. Representatives are present from Utah, Wyoming and New Mexico.

Mine taxation, home leasing pools and government aid in solving low grade ore problems also will be discussed. One hundred and fifty delegates are in attendance.

METHODS OF THE KAISER.

When William Wants Information He Just Simply Gets It.

It is a well known fact that, often becoming interested in some subject, Kaiser William summons the greatest authority on the subject and gets the latest information in the quickest way.

The emperor, so the story goes, summoned Professor Harnack, the renowned theologian, and asked him some technical questions—say, the latest news on the antiquity of the book of John. The emperor is known to be a specialist in refuting higher criticism, so perhaps the question was even more technical.

He and Harnack indulged in a spirited discussion and all too soon the clock drained private secretary interrupted to tell his majesty that he had an appointment for the next half hour with Prince So-and-so. The emperor's face clouded. "Where am I tomorrow night?" he asked. "Your majesty dines with Count So-and-so." Then turning to the theologian the emperor said, "Well, I shall see you again and finish the discussion."

The next day Professor Harnack received an invitation from the count who was entertaining the emperor, and although he was not acquainted with his host he accepted. At dinner he found himself sitting next to the emperor, who immediately resumed the theological discussion where it had been left off the day before. And this time it was finished.—Chicago News.

TYPE AND TAPE.

These Names Sounded Queer as They Were Heard in London.

Here's one about an American printer whose vicissitudes took him across the ocean last year and landed him in the town of London. The printer is back in Cleveland now and tells the story himself.

This printer bethought him of starting a little paper in the heart of England. So he rented a little building, then went to purchase his type and presses. For the type he stopped at a typefounder's place and explained his needs.

"I want some type," he said. "We don't sell type here," answered the clerk blankly. "You might get it at the draper's shop over the way."

"How should I get type in a draper's shop?"

"How should you get it anywhere else, may I ask, think you, sir?"

"Well, in my country type is sold at a typefounder's, not at a dry goods store."

"Aow? Did y'wish toype, sir? I thought you wisht type such as they have in type measures and typeworms. You didn't wish type to bind on the edges of frocks, then, but toype to print a paper with? Step this way, thank you, sir."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Cause of the Roman Empire.

The reason "why the Roman empire succeeded the republic" was that there was felt to be an urgent need of a strong central power. For many years the republic had been desolated, and the cry of the whole people was for peace—peace at almost any price. Now, peace could be secured only by the ascendancy of a single man, ruling with absolute and irresistible sway. So the people acquiesced in the change. They even hailed it with joy. A few patriots like Brutus and Cato gave up in despair, but most men were pleased with the revolution which made Caesar supreme—not that they were monarchistic at heart, but that after the devastating strife they wanted peace, even though it be at the sacrifice of some of their liberties.—St. Louis Times.

Japanese Fashions.

A Japanese woman of fashion is by no means a drain on her husband's finances. The cost of her wearing apparel is very small indeed when compared to her sister of the occident. She wears $13.80 worth of clothing under her kimono, the latter costing about $25. The obi costs another $25. Numerous tying paraphernalia sum up to $17.25, and a set of footwear amounts to about $9. Combs and hairpins ornamented with gems cost $245, a shawl $7.50, a diamond neck scarf $150, a total of a little more than $900 for a season. This is a very modest outlay when compared to the enormous cost of apparel for the woman of fashion in New York and Paris.—New York Sun.

A Lesson in Spelling.

The lawyer was Scotch, and the judge was English. The case in argument concerned certain water rights, and the lawyer had frequently to use the word "water," which he pronounced very broad.

"Mr. So-and-so," at last interrupted the judge, "do you spell water with two t's in your country?"

"Na, na, my lord," quickly retorted the lawyer, "but we spell manners with two n's!"

Mixed Odors.

"My wife was to give a rose tea—everything scented with roses."

"A delicate conceit."

"Yes; but things went wrong. The people in the next flat took that occasion to have onions and cabbage."

ENGLANDER IS FOUND GUILTY

Jury Made it a Felony, But Recommended Clemency Be Shown Him

Found guilty of assault with a deadly weapon, Lawrence Englander is before Judge Thomas this afternoon for sentence. The jury was out for about half an hour and brought in a verdict of guilty of assault with a deadly weapon, and recommended Englander to the mercy of the court.

Englander was accused of taking a shot at Arthur Jacobs. Englander and Jacobs had a quarrel, and Englander said he wanted to scare Jacobs in the presence of two girls with whom they had been out to supper. Jacobs dared Englander to shoot, and Englander fired a shot into the ground. He said he had no intention of killing Jacobs. Englander and Jacobs roomed together at the Lacy House. Englander worked at a laundry.

HEADACHY, COSTIVE, BILIOUS,—"CASCARETS"

Liver and Bowels Are Clogged—Clean Them Tonight! Feel Bulky!

Get a 10-cent box.

Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months.—Advertisement.

Doings In Social and Club Circles

C. E. UNION PERFECTED

Officers Chosen, Constitution Adopted—Social Hour and Program Followed

A very enthusiastic meeting of the Santa Ana City C. E. Union was held last night at the First Presbyterian church. After interesting talks by Dr. Kennedy of the United Presbyterian church, and Rev. Paul Wright of the Christian church, a constitution was adopted and the following officers elected:

President, Martin Warren; vice-president, H. R. Palmer; secretary, Ethel Wilson; treasurer, Albert Hill. A short program followed the business session. A vocal solo by Miss Nellie Bacon, selected readings by Miss Winifred Roberts, and an instrumental number on the "Fairy Bell" by Mr. Garstang, were thoroughly appreciated by those present. The rest of the evening was spent in a social way around the corn poppers.

Farewell Party
A farewell party was given last night at the home of Joe Irvine of 415 E. street, in honor of Eldin McAllister, who leaves Saturday for Tulare. The young men enjoyed themselves with music and games. Delicious refreshments were served by the host.

Those present were the guest of honor, Eldin McAllister; Leo Keeny, Ray Keeny, Arthur Madison, Harry Brown, Thomas Robertson, Ralph Jayne, Joe and Paul Irvine.

All-Day Missionary Meeting
Tomorrow at the First Presbyterian church at 10 o'clock a. m. will open an all-day meeting of all of the Presbyterian missionary societies of Orange county. A noon luncheon will be served, all attending being asked to take a lunch either for one, or for two if the husbands of the members accompany them.

H. W. Luce, recently from Wei Hien, China, the field where Miss Grace Rowley and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mateer are laboring, will give an address. Dr. Garritt of Nanking, China, where Mrs. Minnie Moore Gray is located, will also speak. All friends are invited to be present and hear these addresses, one of which will be given in the forenoon and the other in the afternoon.

Choral Society Concert
At the regular rehearsal of the Santa Ana Choral Society last Tuesday night, the provisional date of Tuesday, March 24, was set for the concert.

Economics Meeting Put Off
Section three of Ebeli Household Economics has postponed the meeting scheduled for tomorrow at Mrs. Albert Finley's, to Friday of next week at the same place.

North Side Club
Mrs. C. H. Meacham the hostess yesterday to the members of the North Side Club, inviting several guests outside of the club. Those to whom she extended courtesies were Mrs. G. E. Shriver of Orange, Mrs. Sarah Cobler of Los Angeles, Mrs. Griffith of Anaheim, Mrs. Fred Stillings, Mrs. W. W. Halesworth, Mrs. W. C. Binkley.

The national colors were used in decorating owing to the near approach of Washington's birthday. A guessing game and the reading of valentines taken by the ladies resulted in merriment galore. The delicious refreshments served by the hostess were in red, white and blue.

The club will next be entertained by Mrs. Thos. Trythall, March 3 being the date of meeting.

Pleasant Surprise Party
Percy K. Lusk was completely and happily surprised on last Tuesday night when a few of his friends unexpectedly walked into the Lusk home at El Modena to celebrate his birthday. Mr. Frank Harris had taken his corner with him and with Mr. Lusk at the organ and Mrs. Lusk at the piano, an impromptu and delightful musical program was enjoyed.

The self-invited had taken cake and coffee with them and late in the evening these were served. Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Holbrook and children, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ritzner, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wiley Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harris.

CHARMING FUNCTION

Brilliant Party Given at Armory With Lovely Spring-Like Decorative Effects

The Armory was transformed yesterday afternoon into a fairy-like place for one of the most brilliant social functions of the season, a whist party at which the hostesses were Mrs. Robert R. Shafer and Mrs. J. Free Parsons. More than half a hundred ladies were entertained, and the beautiful gowns worn by the fair women blended harmoniously with the delicate pink and white tints of the color scheme that was developed by the artistic use of exquisite peach blossoms effectively contrasting with the lacy plumose ferns which banked the mantle, festooned the beams and entwined the pillars of the room. Centering the fern-adorned mantle were pink shaded candelabra, while at either end were baskets of the dainty peach blossoms. The peach blossoms also played in the game baskets, and from the pretty score cards, while the peach blossom motif was carried out on the nut cups and the ices. Pink and white tints prevailed in the delicate cakes, the bonbons, and in the centerpieces of the small tables on which the elaborate and delectable refreshments were served, these being crystal candle sticks shaded with pink.

The prize winners in the whist games, which were played progressively, were Mrs. Free Case, who was awarded a hand-embroidered lunch cloth; Mrs. W. L. Grubb, winning second prize, a guest towel; Mrs. Rossett of Orange, who was consoling with a guest towel. Mrs. Martin of Tustin won the guest prize, a half dozen crocheted dollies, and Miss Louise Grubb, of the charming girls who served, captured a pretty guest towel on a cut. Each of the girls who assisted the hostesses in scoring and serving was given a sheer pink-embroidered handkerchief. The girls assisting, daintily gowned and as pretty as the exquisite blossoms used in the decorations, were Misses Dolly Hart, Kate Lutz, Elsie Parker, Pauline Parsons, Margaret Wakeham, Greba Scott, Henrietta Young, Elsie Lutz and Anna Yarnell. An attractive feature of the function was the music from a superb Victrola played softly at intervals throughout the afternoon.

The list of invited guests included Mesdames Baumgartner, Briggs, E. B. Burns, Ila Bishop, Beissel, Balderston, Burnham, Clark, Carden, Colver, Clayton, Addie Collins, Connell, A. J. Crookshank, F. H. and F. B. Case, Clayton, Davis, Deimling, Duckett, Edgar, Etze, O. K. Hiked to County Park
Last Monday fourteen girls assembled at the home of Miss Agnes Dierker in Orange, tramping to the County Park, although they had not intended to go there. They had a substantial lunch of sandwiches, pickles, olives, salad, hot cocoa, baked beans, candy and cookies.

After resting for a while, kodak pictures of the merry crowd were taken, and the girls gathered wild flowers from the grass-covered hills. They so much enjoyed the hike that they plan to soon make the trip again.

Those who enjoyed the tramp were Misses Leua May Clouth, Agnes Dierker, Lida Klander, Irene Jacobsen, Lillian Franzen, Queenie Morgan, Trilzie Rochester, Esther Dierker, Alma Franzen, Ella Klander, Elizabeth Blank, Esther Jacobsen, Gertrude Klander, Alma Dierker.

ed soprano soloist, having studied under Madame Rubo and Bertha Winslow Vaughn before going East, where she studied three years under Prof. William Howland, head of the voice department in the conservatory of the University of Michigan.

She graduated from the university in 1913, taking a special artist's degree from the conservatory. While attending the university she was soloist in the First Methodist church of Ann Arbor and soprano in the university quartet, which concertized throughout the state. Since graduation she has done considerable concert work in the Middle West as well as in California.

Mr. Garstang received his early musical education in England where he held his first organ position at the age of 12. He continued his study in the New York University, taking piano and harmony under Thomas Tappan, and his organ work was continued under Prof. Roberts and Prof. Mietzke of New York.

All the music lovers of Santa Ana are assured a first class entertainment and should not fail to take advantage of this opportunity to not only hear an excellent program but to aid the newly organized C. E. Union.

For Bridgroom-to-be
Roy C. Peterson on Tuesday night entertained the men who are to be guests at the Alexander-Mullinix wedding, which is to take place tonight at the residence of the bride's mother. The affair was in honor of the bridegroom-to-be, Robert Alexander of Imperial.

A color scheme of yellow was used for the sumptuous six-course dinner, yellow shaded candelabra, baskets and vases of yellow daffodils and maidenhair ferns being used in the table decorations. Cards were played after dinner. The men present, besides the host, were Messrs. Alexander, Marple, Gar Ross, Hugh Plumb, Robert Collins, Carl Lincke, Elmer Prince, Erwin Barnes, Cecil Dubois, Harvey Gardner, Ralph Walbridge.

Dinner and Whist
Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Whitson recently entertained with a most attractive dinner party and whist. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Clevenger, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kendall, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Burns, Mr. and Mrs. Winigler. Violets and maidenhair ferns were used in the pretty table decorations of the six course dinner.

Whist was played in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Clevenger winning first prize and Mr. and Mrs. Burns the consolation.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McElree and their house guest, Miss Marie Maxwell, of San Diego, have returned from a delightful automobile trip to Sawtelle, Santa Monica, Venice, Ocean Park and Playa del Rey, making the trip via Los Angeles both going and coming.

Mrs. Oliver Remsburg went to Los Angeles this morning.

Mrs. Cal D. Lester has gone to San Diego to visit her mother and sister. Mrs. Lester's mother, Mrs. Churchill, will be very pleasantly remembered here.

Mrs. Geo. T. Hively, wife of the Orange county manager of the Theatrical Music Co., arrived here yesterday from San Diego, and the Hivelys are located permanently at 107 East Fourth street. Mr. Hively has opened quarters for the Theatrical Music Co. at 201 East Fourth, where he has a stock of pianos and piano player rolls.

Mrs. Anna Moon, from Whittier, a sister of Mrs. I. D. Mills; and Mrs. C. B. Caldwell of Los Angeles, a daughter of Mrs. Mills, have been down for four or five days visiting Mrs. Mills during her illness. Mrs. Caldwell returned home today, Mrs. Mills being better.

The many friends of Mrs. D. N. Kelly will be pleased to hear that she is rapidly convalescing from her recent serious operation.

M. R. Heninger made the trip to Los Angeles today by way of Huntington Beach.

FALLING HAIR AND ITCHING SCALP

Entirely Needless—Use Parisian Sage. It Quickly Removes Dandruff—Your Head Feels Fine

Now that Parisian Sage can be had at any drug or toilet counter, it is certainly needless to have thin, brittle, matted, stringy or faded hair. No matter how unsightly the hair, how badly it is falling, or how much dandruff, use Parisian Sage—it is all that is needed. One application removes dandruff, the hair roots are nourished and stimulated to grow new hair, itching scalp and falling hair cease—your head feels fine. Best of all, the hair becomes soft, fluffy, abundant and radiant with life and beauty.

You will be surprised and delighted with Parisian Sage. Try at least one fifty cent bottle. Rowley Drug Co. will refund the purchase price if you are not satisfied.

Look for the trade-mark—"The Girl with the Auburn Hair"—accept no other.—Advertisement.

AMUSEMENTS

"Adele," the French operetta which comes to the Grand Opera House for one night, on Monday, Feb. 23, has the unanimous endorsement of the New York critics, where it has been running for the past six months at the Longacre Theater.

There was not one line of adverse criticism in any of the thirty-one reviews that followed its premier in the metropolis. This is a record to be envied.

"Adele" is from the pen of that well known French author, Paul Herve, while the music is from that master of light opera scores, Jean Briquet.

Their former success, "Alma," was Americanized by Adolph Phillip and Edward Panton, who are also adapters of "Adele."

The organization presenting the piece here is said to be the strongest singing company sent out since the days of the famous Bostonians and includes Carolyn Thomson, John Park, Nannette Flack, who the Western critics two years ago compared favorably with Grace Van Studdford, George O'Donnell, Lottie Vincent, Ralph Nearn, Alfred Knapier, Jules Espally, Lawrence Knapp and the "Adele" beauties.

A special metropolitan orchestra of twenty will render the tuneful score, of which there is twenty-two real song hits.

Horrible Blisters of Eczema
Quickly cured by Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment. C. P. Caldwell, of New Orleans, La., states: "My doctor advised me to try 'Dr. Hobson's Eczema Salve.' I used three boxes of Ointment and the cakes of Dr. Hobson's Derna Zema Soap. Today I have not a spot anywhere on my body and can say 'an cure.' It will do the same for you. Its soothing, healing, antiseptic action will rid you of all skin humors, blackheads, pimples, Eczema blotches, red unsightly sores, and leaves your skin clean and healthy. Get a box today. Guaranteed. All druggists, 50c, or by mail, Pfeiffer Chemical Co., Philadelphia & St. Louis.—Advertisement.

LEAGUE PLANS TO BREAK STATE BOTTLE

Illinois Reformers Would Put Measures Long Needed in a New Constitution

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 19.—Unable to put new wine into a bottle which is stopped with three corks, the Constitutional Convention League of Illinois proposes to burst the bottle, use the big available pieces with new glass to form a bigger vessel, into which wine of the state's governmental life may flow more freely and be more accessible.

That's about the figure of speech George E. Cole, president of the new league used today in explaining for the United Press the specific objects of the league and the convention it hopes to have called. The league asks specific reforms which, according to President Cole, the progressive thinking people of the state have sought for thirty years and have been unable to obtain because of the restrictions by which the fundamental code of the state is hedged about. These restrictions Cole calls "three corks." Cork No. 1, the provision that not more than one amendment may be proposed in each two years; cork No. 2, the provision that a two-thirds vote of both houses is necessary to submit a proposed amendment to the people; and cork No. 3, the requirement that the desired amendment submitted must receive a majority of all the votes cast at the next general election in order to be ratified. And Cole and the other hundred members of the advisory council cite the record of amendments proposed and never submitted to prove that the "corks" are effectual barriers against the infusion of new life into the state code.

The bottle will be broken, all right," said Cole, "and there are a lot of folks literally minded enough to say that they can't repair a broken bottle. But the convention of 1870 smashed the old document and made a new one out of the scraps and the progressive ideas of the delegates. Ohio did the same thing, and by submitting the proposed reforms as separate questions to the electorate of the state got the judgment of the people on each as it was not possible to get through the long legislative representation of Chicago. Chicago, on the other hand, seems willing to yield a restriction at least in the Senate if it can get some home rule privileges for which it has been clamoring. The league has begun activities to secure the election of delegates in each congressional district to the convention.

SURGEON TO A TIGER.

An Exciting Operation That Was Repaid by Gratitude.

When one of the tigers in the zoological gardens in Dublin was treated for gangrene in its paw, Rev. Samuel Haughton, M. D., undertook to perform the dangerous experiment of operating on the animal.

The mate of the tiger was first secured in a side den. A net devised by Professor Haughton was thrown over the tiger, and he was drawn forward to the door of the cage. Four stout keepers then held the feet of the struggling animal, while Professor Haughton cut away the diseased claw.

The suffering beast furiously but vainly tried to get at him during the operation, but the rage of the tigress looking on through the bars of the side den was much more terrible to behold. She roared and violently flung herself against the barriers in her mad desire to go to the rescue of her mate.

When the tigress was admitted to the cage after the wound of her mate had been dressed she turned up the paw and examined it with touching solicitude and then licked her mate as a cat licks her kittens to soothe them, purring softly the while.

But perhaps the most extraordinary part of the affair was the sequel. A week later Professor Haughton was again at the zoo to see how his patient was getting on. When the animal espied him he began to purr like a cat, allowed him to examine the paw and seemed pleased that he should do so. Indeed, for years afterward the tiger and tigress showed themselves most friendly and grateful to Professor Haughton.—Westminster Gazette.

GRAVE OF EDNA LYALL.

Picturesque Spot Where the Noted Author Lies at Rest.

Few people perhaps know anything about the picturesque English village of Bosbury, lying almost beneath the shadow of the lengthy rampart of hills which divides the valley of the Severn from undulating orchard clad Herefordshire. It was to this garden of England, a veritable glory of apple blossom in the springtime, that Edna Lyall delighted to go for a few weeks in each year of her short life, and it was Bosbury churchyard that she chose for her last resting place.

Her grave beneath the shadow of an old churchyard cross is a very simple one—merely a plot of grass bordered by her favorite rose trees. Upon it stands a small iron cross with the inscription:

ADA ELLEN BAYLY

February 8th, 1903.

"My trust is in the tender mercy of God for ever and ever."

"Won by Waiting" was Edna Lyall's first book. "The Autobiography of a Slander" reached its twenty-four thousandth edition soon after publication and was translated into several languages.—Great Thoughts.

Raphael.

At the age of twenty-one Raphael had done work that had well surpassed his master, who was then a man of fifty-eight.

By the time he was twenty-five Raphael's fame had so spread that Pope Julius II. summoned him to Rome to decorate certain chambers in the papal palace. From this time to his death, a period of twelve years, he remained the greater part of the time in Rome. Though most famous as a painter, he was sufficiently great in architecture also to be appointed at the age of thirty to succeed Bramante as the architect of the new St. Peter's. But his greatest commission remained still, that of decorating the walls of the Vatican. The remaining years of his life were crowded with an amazing amount of work—numbers of large and smaller paintings and numerous frescoes.—Woman's Home Companion.

Used to Her Yells.

The story of the lad who cried "Wolf" to fool his neighbors had a modern version the other night in an uptown apartment house. Miss H. began taking music lessons. Everybody heard her and got more or less used to it. But the other night Miss H. started to yell—as usual, every one thought—and the neighbors went right on trying to pay no attention to it. As a matter of fact, Miss H. had found a burglar in her apartment, and he got away with Miss H.'s jewels just because every one did go right on paying no attention to her.—New York Tribune.

Hard Luck.

"I always have tough luck."
"What's the matter?"
"I paid Brown $5 that I borrowed from him several weeks ago."
"Where's the tough luck?"
"He said afterward that he'd forgotten all about it!"—Detroit Free Press.

Often the Case.

"It was a fair fight, wasn't it?"
"Sure it was. The under dog got whipped."
"Call that a fair fight?"
"Wait, now, let me explain. The under dog provoked it!"—St. Louis Republic.

SURFACE WORN OFF IN SPOTS ON WEST FIFTH

That is Report Brought in by Two City Trustees Who Saw It

City Trustees McPhee and Alderman are very certain that they will not favor paving West Fifth street inside the city limits with the same paving that the county has used in paving West Fifth outside the city limits. They went, they saw, they were convinced that they do not want the city to put any money into that kind of surfacing.

Monday night the trustees were considering using the county's specifications for paving West Fifth from Artesia to the west city limits, the city to pay half of the cost. C. H. Metzgar opposed the plan, and showed samples of surfacing that he had picked up on the county's work west of the bridge. The trustees then declared that if conditions were as Metzgar stated, they wanted none of it.

McPhee and Alderman made a trip to the county good roads.

"We walked over about 200 yards of the good roads job west of the West Fifth street bridge," said McPhee today. "I will tell you exactly what we found. Along each side where the wheels of vehicles had been passing were exposed surfaces of the concrete for two or three or more yards in places. Some of the surfacing was so thin that when we picked it up it hardly hung together. We could stick our fingers under the edge anywhere and lift the surfacing just as one would lift a carpet off the floor. There was absolutely no adhesion of the wearing surface to the concrete base. So far as I am concerned as a city trustee and as a taxpayer I do not want any of that kind of surfacing on West Fifth street to be paid for by the city in part or in whole or to be paid for by adjoining property owners in part or in whole."

SERMON ON "JUDGMENT" SET FOR SATURDAY NIGHT

Because of the inclemency of the weather last evening, Father Aloysius, the speaker at the Franciscan mission, announced that he had been requested to postpone his sermon on "Judgment" so that many who have been constant attendants since Sunday might hear this important subject. As no subject had been assigned for Saturday night, the sermon will be preached then and confessions heard during the afternoon after the evening service.

Father Aloysius last night, however, gave a very pleasant and general talk how to spend our lives well and concluded with an explanation of one of the most important things for a good confession, contrition.

At this morning's early mass, the subject was "Frequent Communion," and at 8 o'clock "Visits to the Holy Sacrament."

This evening the subject will be one which sometimes brings the sinner back to the straight and narrow path, when all other appeals as to the goodness and mercy of God and what he has suffered for us have no effect and that is "Hell." While no one likes to think of that fiery furnace, it often has a most salutary effect on the sinner.

COMB SAGE TEA IN LIFELESS, GRAY HAIR

If Mixed With Sulphur It
Darkens so Naturally Nobody Can Tell

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb of soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant. Advertisement.

LEGAL PHANTOMS.

Many Statutes That Exist Only
In the Imagination.

EXAMPLES OF "NO SUCH LAW"

Popular Beliefs Which Have Sprung Up, No One Knows How, and Become Fixed Ideas, Yet Have No Foundation in Legislative Enactments.

Many people have the idea that if one owes a bill and goes to his debtor and tells him that he is willing to pay and then offers some trifling sum on account, say $1 or even less per week or month, the creditor is obliged to take it, utterly regardless of the fact that if creditors were obliged to receive payment in that way it would put most of them out of business in a very short period.

There is no such law.
In the minds of very many people, especially in the country districts, there is another firmly fixed idea that if one person strikes another first the person assaulted may then all but pound the other to death.

There is no such law.
A person assaulted has the right to defend himself, but he may not use any more force than necessary to do that. To use more than necessary force completely turns the tables, and the assaulted becomes the aggressor and liable for his excess of zeal in damages commensurate with the damage done. A person has the right to order an undesirable person from his premises and to use sufficient force to eject him if he does not go when so ordered, but he has no right to accelerate his movements with one or more well placed kicks.

Many people who owe bills labor under a strong impression that it is the duty of their creditors to come to them for their money.

There is no such law.

There is a proverb which says, "The borrower is servant to the lender." The bank will not come to you if you owe a note which it holds for collection. Out of courtesy it will send you a notice that your note is due (it is not compelled to do that), but you must go to the bank to make payment.

In the country frequently and in the city sometimes one is told that, if a person dies leaving children and grandchildren, the children of a deceased child, the grandchildren, are not entitled to the share of the estate which their parent would have taken, as the father or mother having died there is no way whereby the inheritance can pass over from the deceased to the grandchildren—in other words, the line is broken.

There is no such law.
The statutes expressly provide that the children of deceased heirs take the share that would have gone to their parent.

A person owns a fruit tree and its branches overhang the land of his neighbor. Many think because of that the neighbor is entitled to the fruit on the overhanging branches.

There is no such law.
If the tree sat upon the line between the estates the neighbor would be entitled to one-half of the fruit, but being wholly on one side the owner is entitled to all the fruit and may go upon his neighbor's land and gather it without being guilty of trespass. If the neighbor does not like this arrangement he may take his ax or saw and cut the limbs off at the line between the estates, but he must throw them on his neighbor's land, as the wood of the tree belongs to him. The owner of the tree may not like to have his tree treated thus, but he cannot help himself.

Two men own adjacent lots of land. One wishes to have a fence between them; the other does not. Many people think that one may build the fence and compel the other to pay for half of it.

There is no such law.
In such a case one owner may call in the fence viewers and have them ascertain the line and designate which part of the fence each shall build. Neither party, however, can compel the other to build any particular style of fence. The mover in the matter may want a fancy fence, but the other may build his half of any material satisfactory to himself, and so long as it is a legal fence he cannot be compelled to build any other.

Many shopkeepers demand that holders of lost money or valuables in their stores shall deliver them over to them, as they own the articles because they were found on their premises.

There is no such law.
The finder of money or other valuables on the floor outside the counter in a store is the owner of the same against the whole world except the loser, but it has been held that if the owner left the money or goods upon the counter or on a table in the store they were practically in the care of the storekeeper and he had the right to their custody, while he could not make such a claim to goods which were found on the floor.—Boston Globe.

Young, Inexpert Fish.
Tommy, new to the country, went fishing in the creek with Luke, the hired man. Tommy returned in the late hours in true fisherman's style, empty handed, but with an excuse.

"It wasn't our fault," he said. "We had some bites and got three fish right up into the air, but they were little ones and didn't know how to hold on."

THOMAS H. TAGGART, DEMOCRATIC BOSS IN INDIANA, WOULD SIT IN THE SENATE

The photographer caught Thomas H. Taggart, Democratic boss in Indiana, in a striking pose. Mr. Taggart is a candidate for the United States senate. That is, his name will be placed before the Democratic state convention at Indianapolis March 19. Taggart must fight Senator B. F. Shively, who has won an important place in the United States senate in the time he has been there. In the campaign of Alton B. Parker for the presidency, Taggart was the chairman of the National Democratic Committee. He has been a member of the committee since, but he has not occupied such an important position in the party since.

WOMEN'S FADS AND FANCIES

By Margaret Mason

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—There may be seven ages of man according to Shakespeare but according to Fashion there's only one age of woman and that debutante age. Madame La Mode has donned her gardening gloves, taken her pruning shears in hand and stepped into the garden of femininity. She has patted and pulled and coaxed and resorted to artificial aids until there isn't a hardy perennial, a wall flower, a century plant, or a full blown blossom in the whole place—nothing but buds. It's true many won't bear close inspection but most of 'em are triumphs of art over nature just the same.

Time was, and not so long ago either, when a woman in her fifties took to tiny black bonnets with strings tied under her chin in demure grandmotherly fashion. Now she still takes to bonnets, but they are of frivolous gold lace wired over the ears in the cutest Dutch effect, and the strings that tie under her chin are couquetteish ribbons that fasten with a smashing big bow under one pink tipped ear.

With misses of eighteen and twenty aping the snowy locks of age in their white wigs or grey tinged powder, the dowagers, whose hoary tresses are nature's dower, no longer need resort to dye as the first step toward rejuvenation. As white hair is particularly trying, however, the complexion still retains some of the coloring and texture of youth, the present fashion of tinting the hair blue, purple and cerise to suit your fancy is a great aid to the perpetuation of youth.

Grandmother's best gown is no longer of stiffly brocaded black satin or silk with a touch of old lace about the sleeves and throat. No indeed, not for the 1914 grandma. Her best frock, which, by the way is a tango one, is of mauve chiffon over rose with a band of black velvet about her throat and no sleeves at all.

Mother's dress of baby blue tulle is as diaphanous and scant of skirts as daughter's pink chiffon, and if this keeps on no doubt great-grand-mamma will be ordering a yellow crepe de chine for her next coming out party.

There is much to be said for this fashion of perpetual youth. When a woman's heart is young even though her years number three score and ten there is no need for her to deck herself in the rusty garments of senility. On the other hand the great danger of the present mode, is a tendency to go far to the other extreme and nothing is sadder than when she refuses to accept her years gracefully and artistically. If she is wise, however, the young middle aged woman selects her raiment judiciously, in tones of soft gray, lavender, purple, golden brown, taupe, sapphire, blue, old rose and creamy white and remembers that black is for the young woman alone.

Moleskin is becoming fur for all ages and silver tipped fox as attractive for fifty as fifteen. Let her pay attention to her figure and always be well corseted.

One may easily keep ahead of Father Time in the tripping measures of the trot and tango and a masseuse in time saves nine wrinkles.

One of the newest fads is the wearing of pearl dog collars not merely in the evening but for afternoon as well. This is a blessing for the woman whose only betrayal of age is about the throat, nor will she be suspected of wearing it for that reason since sweet and twenty is also covering up her firm young throat in like manner.

Another good thing for the Indian summer charmer is the present craze for small and close fitting hats, for none but the brave and extremely young should dare the large chapeau.

It is well to bear in mind, however, that you've got to feel young as well as dress young if you would look young. So throw your knitting needles and your spools into the discard, Granny, join a tango class and get a French dressmaker and a Swedish masseuse.

Wrinkles aren't being worn this season and a sparkle in your eye is worth two crow's feet in the corner.

GUZMAN IS ON TRIAL ON SMUGGLING CHARGE

At One Time Was Confederate of Rosario Sainz, Now Doing Life

Gregorio Guzman is being tried in the United States District Court before Judge Wellborn and a jury, charged with bringing four contraband Chinese into the country from Mexico.—Guzman is well known to the immigration authorities. Just before his arrest last July he had completed a sentence of one year in San Quentin, on the charge of making a deadly assault upon Immigration Inspector Chadney in San Diego county.

Guzman was a confederate of Rosario Sainz, smuggler and murderer, who is serving a life sentence in San Quentin from this county. Guzman was in the tent near Sunset Beach when Sainz shot Machado, for whose death he was sentenced after twice escaping to Mexico, a sensational jail-break and two trials. Guzman was arrested at Peralta by T. G. Cervantes and L. M. Edwards, then officers of Santa Ana.

GIRLS! DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR

Try This! Hair Gets Thick,
Glossy, Wavy and Beautiful at Once

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—That's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.—Advertisement.

CLUB'S HOME READY BY SUMMER

Lease of Orange County Club
Will Be Signed in Day or Two

GOLF COURSE TO BE BEST IN SOUTHLAND

Commodious Quarters Planned for Comfort of Big List of Members

One of the most significant movements of the out-of-doors-social life of Santa Ana and vicinity is that now in active process of construction—the Orange County Country Club. A draft of the club's lease of the property at Port Orange, opposite East Newport, has been submitted to James Irvine, who is now in San Francisco. The lease is expected back in a day or two with Mr. Irvine's signature.

Work on the club house will begin as soon as the rainy season is over, about April 1, and will be ready to receive its members by early summer. The plans call for a club home that for true comfort of commodious quarters cannot be equaled anywhere in the southern part of this state.

The most attractive feature of this club will be the living room, with its large "homey" fireplace and tastefully arranged appointments. This room, the largest in the house, will be approximately 25x32 feet. Next comes the dining room, which will have small tables enough to accommodate sixty people comfortably. A glass-enclosed porch overlooking Newport Bay will be used as an auxiliary dining room, should occasion demand. There will be a kitchen, a combination lounging and smoking room and a large locker room with shower baths for the men, two dressing and locker rooms for the ladies and five rooms upstairs for servants.

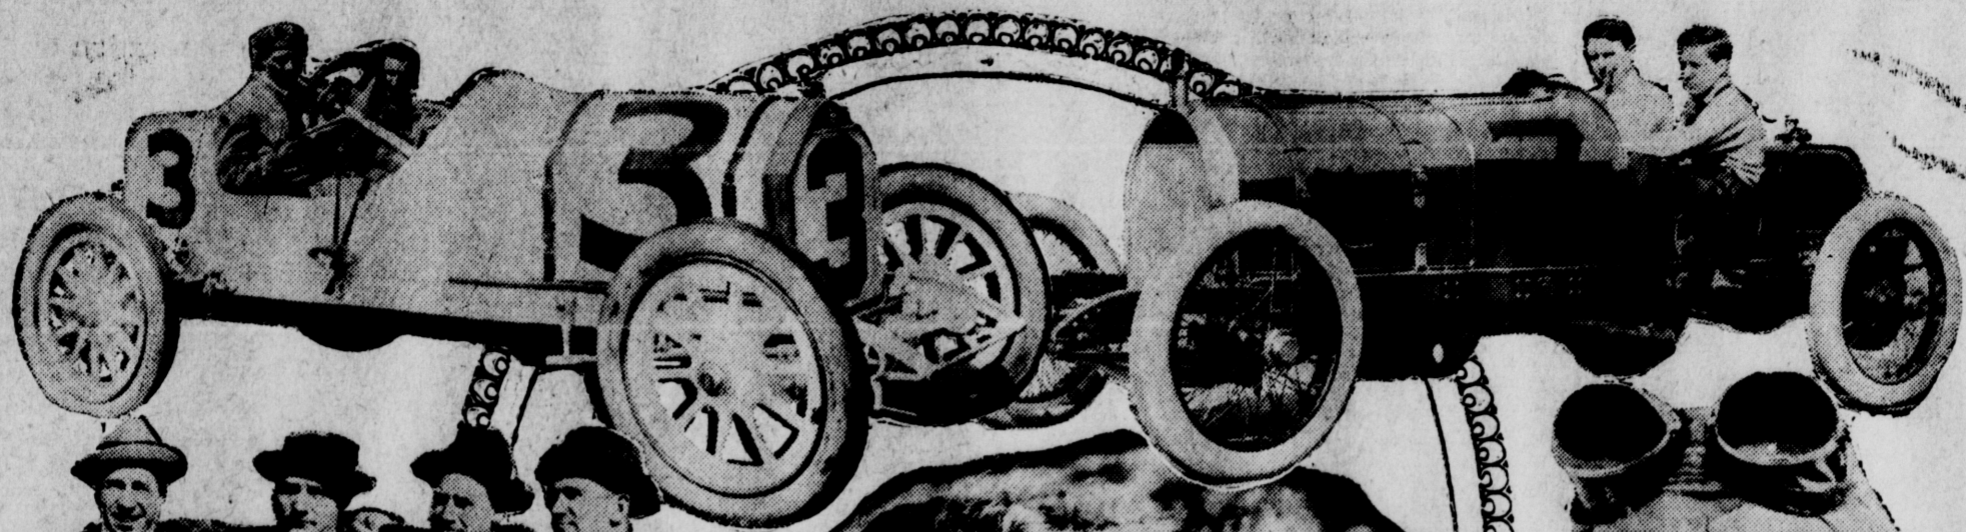

There will be large porches on three sides of the club house, well furnished with roomy and inviting chairs. Not the least of the club's attractions will be the eighteen-hole golf course. Enthusiasts of the game will find here everything their hearts could desire; in fact, Edward Tufts, of Los Angeles, has said that the location of the Orange County Country Club has "no equal in Southern California," and Mr. Tufts ought to know for he is known as "the father of California golf."

Devotees of tennis will find ample facilities for the display of their prowess on the two tennis courts which will be built. Bath houses and an auto shed are also items in the contemplated plans. The shed will house from 15 to 20 machines without trouble.

If proof were needed of the far-sightedness of the committee entrusted with the planning of the club house nothing more could be said than that the house will be so arranged that, should occasion demand, it can be enlarged at nominal expense without changing the original appearance of the building.

The club has now a membership of 168. Although there is no limit, as yet, on the number who may belong, it is expected that when the club house is finished, the grounds in shape and water developed, and when people begin to realize the extreme attractiveness of everything connected with the club, it will become necessary to close the membership lists.

THE LARGEST SIGN IN THE CITY FOR AUTOMOBILE LEAGUE

What is said to be the largest sign ever put up in Santa Ana has just been completed by W. Cunningham, the sign painter. The sign is 30 feet long by four feet wide and will adorn the front of the Orange County Automobile League, at 421 West Fourth street. The lettering is of silver on a blue and black small background.

Automobiles in Los Angeles
According to figures compiled by the city auditor of Los Angeles, the number of automobiles in the city is 36,000, valued at $55,000,000. Basing the population of Los Angeles at 500,000, the figures show an auto for every fourteen persons and an investment of $110.00 per capita for gasoline wagons.

ATHLETIC CLUB BOXING MEET IN APRIL

Aspirants for Amateur Club Championship Titles Will

AWARD SILVER SHIELD TO CLEVEREST BOXERS

Club Pedestrians Organize for Hikes to Mountains and Beach Resorts

The Athletic Club is planning a big boxing and wrestling tournament to decide the club championship in the different classes. Entries are already being received and a lively time is assured. The entries are open to club members only and will be received for the following classes: Bantam, 105 pounds and under; feather, 115 pounds and under; light, 135 pounds and under; and extra class at 155 pounds, providing there are enough entries.

A suitable award will be made to the winners of each class, and will likely be a silver shield with the name, weight and date engraved upon it. This shield is to occupy a conspicuous place in the club rooms. All title holders will be required to defend their rights twice yearly. Failure to do this will mean forfeiture of the championship title. Regular Amateur Athletic Union rules will govern the tournament. The evenings for boxing and wrestling, together with the monthly smokers, will give all an ample opportunity to get in good shape for the tournament, which will be held early in April.

Several members of the Athletic Club who are anxious to display their prowess as pedestrians have been considering the organization of a team to make week-end trips to the beach, mountains and other places of interest. The present plan is to have the squad large enough to make the trips enjoyable and safe, and to furnish plenty of exercise. The first trip probably will be made about the middle of this month with the place yet to be decided upon.

ATHLETIC CLUB HAD BIG OPEN HOUSE LAST NIGHT

One of the most popular and original events staged lately by that lively crowd of youngsters of all ages, the Santa Ana Athletic Club, was that put on last evening at the club rooms. It was an "open house" affair and no better proof of the popularity of the way things are "run" by the club could be asked than that, in spite of the wetness of the weather, there were in the neighborhood of two hundred guests present. Pie-eating contests and bun-catching tournaments were the order of the evening and furnished a tremendous lot of fun. The big feature was an indoor baseball game between the boys and girls. Score one for the girls! They walked away with the score to the tune of 14 to 6. Mr. and Mrs. Bunch were the captains of the teams.

OFFERS PRIZES TO BOYS FOR BEST LETTERS

The Chalmers Motor Company evidently gives credit to the boys for wielding a great deal of influence in the selection of the family car. They have included the American Boy Magazine in their national advertising campaign. In a recent issue of which appeared a full page advertisement addressed exclusively to boys. One hundred gold medals are offered as prizes for the best letters that are sent them by boys, on the advantages of six-cylinder motors, and reasons why the Chalmers "Six" motor is master of all the sixes. In addition to the one hundred gold medals to be given as prizes, everybody who writes the Chalmers company will be sent a bronze Chalmers medal.

MANY SANTA ANANS
WILL GO TO RACES

Teddy Tetzlaff Makes Fastest
Lap on Tuesday Morning Tryout

There is a great deal of uncertainty, just at present, owing to weather conditions, as to whether America's motor racing classic, the Vanderbilt Cup, will be run Saturday at Santa Monica or postponed until Wednesday of next week. Unless the rain comes down in positive torrents between now and Saturday the race will be run on the scheduled date.

The Santa Monica races have been attracting their share of attention among Santa Ana and Orange county automobile enthusiasts. It is safe to say that the roads between the beach course and Santa Ana will be lined Saturday and Monday, with miles of motors, all going to the races. In short, the excitement caused by the staging of this first Vanderbilt race to be run in the Southwest is such as to guarantee tremendous crowds from all sections whether it rains or shines.

Probably the speed dope of greatest interest to Orange county people is that about Teddy Tetzlaff, the former local boy. The Los Angeles Examiner of Wednesday gave Tetzlaff credit for turning the fastest lap on Tuesday morning's work-outs. "The early morning clockers," says the Examiner, "caught the record-holder and his big car making the eight miles in five minutes and forty-five seconds. This is an eighty-seven-mile average, and the Tetzlaff stock is again rising. There are many predictions that Tetzlaff will take the entrant of the Savage Tire Company, the fastest lap of the international prize race.

"The car is as fast as it ever was," Tetzlaff is credited with having said Tuesday. "And I expect it to hold together throughout the entire race. There have been predictions that I could not hold such sustained speed, but there may be a big surprise for someone."

The Examiner said that the Mason Specials, which Billy Carlson and Baron Richenbacher will drive, are attracting much attention, as is also the smallest car in the Vanderbilt—the Sunbeam. This six-cylinder is under 300 cubic inches piston displacement, but it has shown the speed of some of the largest cars. Many are expecting J. B. Marquis to go through without a stop for fuel or tires.

Ralph De Palma's Mercedes, which burned out a bearing Monday morning, will be ready for the race. The "120" Fiat, in which Dave Lewis and his mechanic nearly met their death Monday morning, is being put in shape for the race.

WAFFLE & WEST TAKE AGENCY FOR SAXON CAR

Waffle & West have closed a contract by which they secure the agency for the Saxon car for the greater portion of Orange county.

Much interest attaches to the invasion of the light car field by the Saxon company, because practically all the men identified with the new concern have been prominent in the automobile industry since its early days, and are connected with some of the most successful companies now operating. The Chalmers Motor Company contributes liberally to the officers and directorate of the Saxon company, but assurance is given that they are separate and distinct corporations. Further proof of this is furnished by the fact that the Saxon is being manufactured in its own plant.

Several orders have been booked for Saxons to be delivered just as soon as they can be had and from present indications the agents here believe the demand will exceed the supply for this season. The Saxon sells at $469 delivered in Santa Ana and the first cars are expected to arrive about the first of March.

QUAIL SHOULD MATE FREELY THIS SEASON

Lots of Rain Means that the Birds Will Have Half a Show to Increase

Although it is yet too early to state with certainty the prospects for quail hunting, this season, indications are that the birds will be plentiful. Recent heavy rains have done much to assure feed for the young birds.

W. K. Robinson, County Game Warden, says that, often in dry years, judging from the locations of nests, the birds really do not intend hatching their eggs. This has been the case in the last two or three years. Quail seem to have an intuitive sense as to whether a season will be favorable or not. This is proven, Mr. Robinson says, by the fact that in dry years eggs are found in scattered places—they appear to have been abandoned as soon as laid.

The mating season will begin the latter part of March and the first part of April. In unfavorable years the birds do not mate freely.

There are a great many flocks in the canyon now but it is a hard matter to judge the excellence of the hunting season as the birds migrate to the hills as soon as the season opens.

According to Mr. Robinson, if quail have been "holding their own" during the past six years they "have been doing mighty well." "It is not the guns that have been exterminating the quail," the warden says, "but the encroachments of the rapidly growing agricultural districts in the hill valleys and farmable hill plateaus. Twenty years ago five times more quail were killed than now. At that time the birds were killed for the Los Angeles market. In spite of this the birds mated and the flocks increased. But as the San Joaquin and other great ranches were set to orchards or farmed for grain the natural feeding grounds rapidly disappeared. It became more and more difficult for the birds to find sufficient food for themselves, to say nothing of their young."

Considered from all points it is not too much to say that the 1914 quail season will prove a good one for the nimrods of Orange county. It is sure to be a good season for the quail, for they can now seek nests and rear their young in out of the way places and not along well defined water courses or near well known water holes. The recent rains mean more water in the hills and in places in the hills where there has been none in summer for some time past.

PRIZES FOR A POSTER OF ANAHEIM AUTO SHOW

The art department of the Santa Ana High School has received a communication from the automobile dealers of the northern part of Orange county offering a cash prize of $10 for the best poster illustrating the automobile show which is to be held in Anaheim on Saturday, February 28.

There are to be four prizes in all—$10 for the first prize, $5 for the second, $3 for the third and $2 for the fourth.

The conditions of the contest are that the posters must contain 400 square inches, and must be drawn in water colors on cardboard suitable for window cards. The points which will be considered in awarding the prizes will be originality of design, appropriateness and striking color display.

The show will be the first ever held in Orange county. It will be under the auspices of the automobile dealers who have agencies north of the Santa Ana river, for one day only. Special entertainment features have been secured. Assemblyman Hans V. Weisel will give a talk in the evening on the new automobile laws which are so unpopular among many automobile owners. It is understood that at the next session of the legislature he may introduce an amendment to this law.

PLUMBERS ORGANIZE SPEEDY BALL CLUB

Following is the line-up for the latest amateur base ball team to be organized in this city—that which has taken the temporary name of "Bell's Plumbers." Charlie Carlson, catcher; Ralph Shellenberger, pitcher; Arnold Hacklander, first base; Brown West, second base; Al Goff, shortstop; Harry Mix, third base; Art Heard, left field; Kerk Mann, center field; Hay Hogan, right field.

This team will be ready for business just as soon as the weather becomes settled, and expects to give rival local teams a good run for their money.

"TIZ" FOR ACHING, SORE, TIRED FEET

Good-bye sore feet, burning feet, swollen feet, sweaty feet, smelly feet, tired feet.

Good-bye corns, callouses, bunions and raw spots. No more shoe tightness, no more limping with pain or drawing up your face in agony. "TIZ" is magical. It draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet. Use "TIZ" and forget your foot misery. Ah! how comfortable your feet feel. Get a 25 cent box of "TIZ" now at any drugstore or department store. Don't suffer. Have good feet, glad feet, feet that never swell, never hurt, never get tired. A year's foot comfort guaranteed or money refunded.

LOUTERBEGEN, ACTOR
WHO WEARS AN ANKLET

An actor who calls himself Lou Tellegen has jumped into New York society over night—a feat which some others have tried for years without success. And this came about largely because he wore an anklet in public. That is, his anklet qualities would not have been noticed had his ankle not been seen first.

Tellegen says he studied military science at St. Cyr and sculpture under Rodin, after which he went to Brazil to dig for gold. Then he became an actor on Broadway and appeared in "Maria Rosa." His work attracted attention at once and he won high praise. But his acting would not have won him a place in New York society. One of the dames of that peculiar institution saw him dancing the tango wearing the anklet. Of course he was graceful and a fine dancer, and altogether a good looking fellow. She raved over him and he was introduced. From that he was invited to social affairs, and now he is busy in society when he is not on the stage.

PANAMA PACIFIC EXPOSITION NOTES

The rarest fabrics produced in China will be exhibited at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. Dr. T. C. Chu, counselor of the Ministry of Industry and Commerce of China, and special commissioner to the exposition, announces that the Chinese architect who is to design the Chinese pavilion, will reach San Francisco soon. China will expend $800,000 on its display, says Dr. Chu. The exhibit will be concerned principally with the liberal arts, manufactures, and agricultural pursuits of the republic. At the close of the exposition the pavilion, which will be of permanent construction, will be presented to the American people.

Radium, the rarest and costliest of all minerals, the curative and energizing powers of which are holding the attention of the scientific world, will be one of the most important exhibits at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. The intrinsic value of material shown at the exhibit will reach a fabulous sum. German exhibitors have promised to send a display of radium and radium ores.

The Panama-Pacific International Exposition has made an agreement with the Parseval Company of Hamburg, Germany, to operate a Parseval dirigible at the exposition. The dirigible will be the largest ever constructed, having a length of 480 feet and a width of 80 feet, and will cost $250,000. The hangar, or house in which it will be kept when on exhibition, will be portable, constructed in Germany at a cost of $60,000. A gas plant will be built costing $40,000. The gigantic airship will make trips of fifty miles length, carrying passengers at $25 each. Two licensed crews of eight members in each crew, from Germany, will accompany the dirigible to America and operate it while at San Francisco. When not making regular trips the Parseval will be on exhibition at the hangar. Here exposition visitors will have an opportunity to explore its spacious interior, comprised of observation rooms, sleeping rooms, diner, kitchen, bath, smoking room, reading room and all accessories that provide a modern transportation car with the comforts of travel.

The housewife who visits the Panama-Pacific Exposition will find in the Palace of Liberal Arts an exhibit of the methods of adulteration of food products, drugs, and even of dry goods, and will have the privilege of seeing daily demonstrations of ways of detecting these adulterations. Chief Theodore Hardee of the department has planned this as a special pure food educational display. Best methods employed in preserving food in all parts of the globe will be shown.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA MOOSE TO ORGANIZE BASE BALL LEAGUE

There is an active movement afoot on the part of the local Moose lodge to organize a team of base ball players to become a part of what is known as the Southern California Moose League. Mr. S. E. Deck, the manager of the Santa Ana team, is now "scouting" around for talent. It has not yet been definitely decided just what towns will be in the league but it is a practical certainty that all the large towns in the south will be in it. Los Angeles and San Bernardino are two of the most important cities on the proposed schedule. The line-up, towns to be played and dates will be announced later.

A foreign company organized on similar lines, with headquarters in Buffalo, has signed up over $7000.00 worth of tire contracts in Orange county during the past three months. That's a lot of money to take out of the local field and we were simply forced to do something to head off the foreign invader and protect our business.

Pearce & Drake, owners of the Santa Ana Vulcanizing Works, were the principal organizers of the Orange County Automobile League. It is incorporated and fully financed. HIGH HONOR FOR CADILLAC MAN

At the annual meeting of the Society of Automobile Engineers held in New York, Henry M. Leland, advisory manager of the Cadillac Motor Car Company, was elected president. Mr. Leland was born at Danville, Vt., Feb. 18, 1843. His early life was spent on a farm. Afterward he completed an apprenticeship with the Knowlton Ordnance works at Watervliet, Mass., when 19 years of age. During the civil war he was engaged in making tools for the manufacture of rifles in the United States armory at Springfield, Mass. Later he was engaged in similar capacities in several New England plants and then became associated with the Brown & Harpe Manufacturing company of Providence, R. I., where he rapidly rose to positions of responsibility. He remained with them for twenty years, until 1880, when he determined to establish a business of his own and selected Detroit, where he rented a small plant and began the making of special machinery, gage tools, etc. The manufacture of internal combustion engines was added about the time motor-propelled boats, chiefly naphtha launches, made their appearance. Experiments to produce motor propelled vehicles were also in progress and the Leland & Faulconer Manufacturing company, of which Mr. Leland was the head, soon became recognized as leaders in the manufacture of gasoline motors.

In 1902 Mr. Leland organized the Cadillac Automobile company and in

FACTORY NON-PUNCTURABLE TIRES PLANNED FOR ANAHEIM

What is one of the most important commercial transactions occurring in Orange county in the past few days is that whereby Mr. John Cook and Mr. J. W. Walls sold to the Universal Tire Company, for a consideration of $35,000, the property known as the Dreyfus Winery property of Anaheim. The tire company, of which Mr. Hall H. Holdaway is the president and Mr. Irving Y. Bigelow the secretary, came to Anaheim to start up its factory and asked absolutely no bonus in the way of stock subscriptions.

The old Dreyfus winery is one of the landmarks of the county, having been built in the eighties at a cost of over $42,000. The size of the building is 80x204 feet and has a basement and two stories. The Universal Tire Company says that the building will provide ample room for beginning operations immediately and that but very few alterations will be necessary.

The company is to manufacture a non-puncturable tire—a new departure in automobile tire building. The tire is the invention of the president of the company, Mr. Holdaway, who has a list of 21 other successful inventions and patents to his credit. The machinery for this new enterprise has been ordered. The plant will employ from three to five hundred men per year. A small number of employees will be used at the start but as the business grows more will be added.

When asked today, by a Register representative, why the Universal Company selected Anaheim as its place of business, Mr. Walls, from whom the property was purchased, said that Orange county had a reputation in the East of being the richest county in the West, and as Orange county and Southern California rank first in extent of automobile industries, it did not take the tire company long to make up its mind where to locate.

The home office as well as the plant will be located at Anaheim. It will be but a short time before the company will begin the manufacture of the non-puncturable tire, which should prove a tremendous success with the motoring fraternity.

Mr. Leland has been since its organization an active member of the National Association of Manufacturers, the National Founders' association, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and the Society of Automobile Engineers. He has for years been active in religious, benevolent, business and civic affairs, and was the first president of the Detroit Citizens' league, organized for the betterment of matters pertaining to municipal government. In view of his pioneer ship in the motor car industry and his sterling character, it is but fitting that Mr. Leland be accorded the honor of the presidency of the Society of Automobile Engineers.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

There was little activity in the produce market yesterday and little trading on the exchange, with the result that no price changes were made.

The storm of yesterday will, it is anticipated, have a distinct effect on the local market during the next few days. The washout on all the main lines to the east, with the exception of the Fullerton line of the Santa Fe railroad, have held up temporarily all freight. Most of the butter and garden produce from the Imperial Valley will be held back a day or two, it is believed. The produce from the San Luis Obispo district will be several days in reaching the local markets, and in view of the fact that the San Joaquin Valley line of the Southern Pacific will be overcrowded with special business, only perishable produce is expected to move from the northern part of the state.

The produce dealers are inclined to believe that the rain will be a decided benefit to the growing vegetables, with the possible exception of lettuce and celery. Cabbage and turnip will be aided in maturing and the output should be increased, it is said.

It is believed that during the next few days local conditions will not be normal, owing to the failure of the shippers to receive the produce en route and the failure of the shippers to send away Southern California produce.

Large Production accounts for Overland Low Prices

A Complete Car Every 3 Minutes

Every time the clock ticks off three minutes we complete an Overland car. That's 20 cars an hour—nearly 200 cars a day!

Scores of well-known factories right now are not shipping over 2 cars a day. Our shipments—200 a day!

Each day our entire daily production is shipped—not to branches to be stored away—but to our 3000 dealers in all parts of the world who, up to the present time, have not been able to get sufficient cars to fill the ever increasing and insistent demand.

During the last quarter, ending December 31st, we produced and delivered over 12,000 Overlands.

This established a new record.

In other words, we shipped more cars during the last quarter than during any other previous quarter since we have been in the automobile business.

The world at large seldom makes a mistake. If, year in and year out, public demand for Overlands increases by leaps and bounds, way beyond our annual capacity (now 50,000 cars) it's indicative of how this car stands in the estimation of the buying and ever critical public.

WE CAN MAKE IMMEDIATE DELIVERIES ON MOST OVERLAND MODELS.

Sporting Briefs of the Week

[By Hal Sheridan]

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—The Australians, having seen the Giants and White Sox in action, are inclined to spoof at our national game. At least one writer in the antipodes has gone on record as finding it hard to decide whether the Giants going into action look like "a band of Arctic explorers, braced for a march due south, or a contingent of prize fighters getting ready for the ring." Unless they appear for fights in Melbourne in different garb from that displayed in this country, we blush to think what the Giants must have looked like and shiver for the Arctic explorers. The writer in the Melbourne Age, however, explains. In describing the appearance of the American ball players, the story says:

"It was the novelty of the thing that chiefly appealed to the spectators. To see an American baseball team taking the field is vastly impressive at the outset. There are nine men on a side, and the New Yorkers as they stepped onto the field, looked a formidable and rather fearsome contingent. In size they are above the average; one or two of them would easily turn the scale at fourteen stone, and they add to their bulky appearance by wearing loose and baggy garments, surmounted by white hats pulled down well over the eyes. The man who acts as catcher—a position corresponding to that of wicket keeper at cricket—is fearfully and wonderfully arrayed against all possible mischances of the game. He carries a heavy glove in one hand; he has his legs incased in pads of considerable size and thickness, and wears round his body a sort of leather buckler that would be a fair protection against a Macedonian phalanx. One would not be surprised to see him mount a charger and gallop three times around the ground defying all and sundry to mortal combat. It is rather a disappointment to find that he intends to do nothing more than stand immediately behind the striker and catch the occasional balls that come his way."

There is almost a snicker in the Age story's reference to pitching as "bowling." But to go ahead, the story continues:

"Someone stands in the base with a wooden bat in his hand; some one bowls or 'pitches' at him; if he hits the ball hard enough or far enough he will get around the ring—in other words, he will get what baseballers call a run, and what children call a rounder; if he is caught off the bat he is out—just as he is in rounders; and if he is not fast enough to get to a base before the ball gets there he is out also."

Considering the noise a world's series crowd is able to make and the near cases of nervous prostration that develop, what must we be falling for when an outsider sees the game as the Australians see it. Continuing as follows:

"But the game, as a game, seems to lack tensely and continuous interest. It is rather suggestive of a garden party. It reminds the Australian on-looker of his first open-air picnic." Rawthorn zippy in our choice of sports; evidently, in the opinion of Australians. Umpire Klem came in for almost the only praise that was handed out. "The deep sepulchral tones of his voice were greatly admired," says the Melbourne scribe.

"The umpire, who stands just behind the striker, combines the duties of judge with those of herald; every time a player went in to bat the umpire turned to the crowd and in strident tones, with a voice that could be heard all over the grounds, announced to the listening multitude who the distinguished batsman was. Thus it was: Ladies and gentlemen (cheers) the striker is Jim Thorpe (renewed cheers), the undoubted champion athlete of the world. (Tremendous cheering.) If the striker happened to be caught or otherwise disposed of the umpire sang his dirge in this fashion. 'He's out!'"

Some space was given to a description of the White Sox, and on this the Age delivered itself as follows:

"The Chicago players were garbed in blue. Apart from the difference in colors there was not much to choose between the teams in the matter of physique or skill. The New Yorkers looked slightly the heavier, but the Chicago players were almost, if not quite, as substantial. The New York team started batting, and in their first inning—the word has to be carefully spelled without an s—made three."

"The Chicagoites in their first venture failed to score. The manner in which the striker hit the ball, sometimes aloft, sometimes along the ground, but often hard enough to hit the fence—no slight feat, seeing that the bat is not like the cricket bat, but shaped like a thick walking stick—compelled admiration. In catching the visitors are highly expert; to put a ball anywhere near a fieldman is certain death. After they had seven innings each, the New Yorkers were leading by eight runs to six. Each side added a run in its eighth attempt and at the finish the game was: Giants, 12; White Sox, 8. Giants thus won by four runs." They even subtract for 'em over in Melbourne.

DIARY KEPT BY STOMACH

Much Abused Organ Protests Against Treatment by the Owner

"Leaves from the Diary of a Stomach," formed the logical and decidedly amusing climax to an address by Dr. James H. McBride, hygienic adviser of the students of Throop College, at the Friday morning assembly in Pasadena Hall. Dr. McBride's subject was "The Importance of Clean Mouths and Sound Teeth." The "Diary" follows:

"10 a.m.—Oh, dear! another warm day. Wonder if I'll be abused as I was yesterday. If I am, I'm going to strike. Just disposed of a half-chewed breakfast. We ran for the train which meant I was so jiggled about and so tired that it took me twice as long to do my work. Hope she gives me an hour or two of complete rest before anything more comes my way."

"10:30—Two glasses of ice water have just arrived. It will take all the energy I can pump up in the next hour to warm me up to normal again."

"10:50—Half-chewed breakfast did not satisfy her and she has bought some peanuts and started eating them."

"12 m.—Peanuts have dribbled along steadily ever since last entry. Think she has finished them, though."

"12:30 p.m.—Decided she wasn't very hungry, and instead of a good solid dinner, sent me down a cold eggnog, heavy with chocolate. Could have managed it all right if it hadn't been so cold, but that makes it terribly hard to deal with."

"1:10—More ice water."

"1:40—Was mistaken about the peanuts. She found another handful in the bottom of the bag, and now I have them to tend to."

"2:05—More ice water."

"3:10—She has been lifting some heavy books, and, as usual, used my muscles, instead of her arm muscles, as she should have done. Tired me more than digesting a six-course dinner."

"3:20—Some one has brought us a box of caramels, and she has started on that."

"4:30—Have received something like half a pound of caramels since last entry. She just said: 'Oh, dear, I don't feel a bit well. I know the milk in that eggnog must have been sour.'"

"6:30—We played a set of tennis before dinner, and here I am all tired out and a dinner to handle."

"6:50—We were invited out to have a soda before going home. Had a lemon phosphate and then ran for the train."

"7:00—Fried potatoes, cucumbers, veal and canned blueberries. What do you know about that?"

"7:45—We are going down for a chocolate walnut college ice."

"8:20—Got home and found some one had made some lemonade. She drank two glasses. That on top of the college ice settles it. I strike."

"8:30—Have sent back the college ice and lemonade."

"8:40—Returned the blueberries."

"8:50—And the veal."

"9:10—She has sent for the doctor. Says the college ice must have had something the matter with it. Her mother says it is probably the weak stomach she inherited from her father."

"9:30—Doctor says it is just a little upset, due to the weather. Good-night."

In the course of his remarks Dr. McBride made some very striking assertions as to the possible results of the application of present-day scientific knowledge. One of these was that if the human race used the wisdom it possesses, all contagious diseases could be abolished in fifteen years.

He then said that there were 150,000 varieties of microbes in the mouth, and that among others, scarlet fever germs may be carried in the mouth, and he urged the preventive of many diseases the careful chewing of food and keeping the teeth clean.

STUDENTS ARE GOING TO THE ORANGE SHOW

The Santa Ana High School is going to be ably represented at the National Orange Show at San Bernardino, Friday, February 20.

The members of the agricultural class with its teacher, Prof. Montgomery, are going to take in this wonderful exhibit. Owing to the large number of exhibits it was necessary that the show be held under one of the largest exhibit tents in the United States, and the students feel that they will be well repaid.

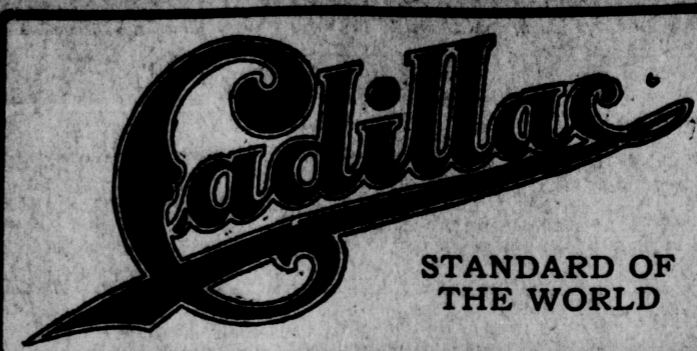

Santa Ana should feel proud of the fact that she has young men anxious for the chance to go to such an exhibit as this and learn in a practical way facts concerning citrus fruits.

Those who will make the trip are Prof. Montgomery, Frank Blake, Joe Irvine, Leo Keeney, Donald Stevenson, George Wells, Greathouse, Lawrence Eaton, Francis Westgate, McDonald, Clarence Hoefler and Harold Holzgrafe.

Many of the Features of the Cadillac

Are Exclusive—They cannot be obtained in any other car.

- An engine with copper-jacket cylinders, uniform space for water circulation, and uniform cooling.
- A five bearing crank shaft with adjustable bearings.
- A lubricating system that lubricates—one you can almost forget.
- A carburetor of remarkable flexibility and range of action, hot water jacketed and electrically heated.
- A steering gear that is certain and safe, one you can adjust to compensate for wear.
- A clutch that is soft, velvety, easy to operate, simple, substantial and durable.
- Brakes that are large and powerful, yet a child can easily bring the car to a standstill.
- Springs that are pliable and yielding, which justify the saying: "The Cadillac carries its own road with it."
- Upholstery that is deep and rich and soft.
- An electrical system of cranking, lighting and ignition—the system introduced by the Cadillac more than two years ago, improved, simplified and refined to a marked degree.
- The Cadillac two-speed direct drive axle, the greatest development in the past two years.
- It minimizes vibration.
- It affords the highest degree of smoothness in running.
- It reduces operating cost.
- It decreases the wear on moving parts and therefore decreases up-keep expense.
